GEN. FENG ASKS LEADERS OF MANCHURIAN FORCES TO AGREE TO END HOSTILITIES

Christian General Who Now Controls Peking Government Sends Representatives to General Chang Tso-Lin's Field Commanders; President Tsa Kun Issues Proclamation Ordering Cessation of Military Operations

Shanghai, Oct. 24.—Representatives of General Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian General," have been sent to the field commanders of the armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian leader, with a plea for an agreement to effect an armistice, according to an Eastern News Agency dispatch from Mukden relayed here through Tientsin.

The peace representatives from the "Christian General" included Wang Kwai-Ching, commander of the Third Chihli Army; Mei Chen-Piao, peace commissioner for Linsi and Jehol, and Hu Ching-Yi, commander of the First Division of Shensi troops.

The news agency, which is generally considered reliable, carried a report through Tientsin from the North predicting an early end of the war. The same source, however, tells of a brigade of Manchurian troops engaged in a drive on Ping Shan-Ying and another force of 19,000 moving southward swifty farther west, by way of Taolinkou, with Lwanchow as an objective.

PROCLAMATION ISSUED

Peking, Oct. 24.—President Tsao Kun issued a proclamation at 8 a.m. to-day ordering an immediate cessation of hostilities and dismissing Wu Pei-Fu, commander of the Peking military forces, from his present post. Both the Chihli and Mukden forces were ordered by the President to remain at their present positions.

The post of commander-in-chief of the expeditionary forces, held by Wu Pei-Fu, was abolished and Wang Cheng-Ting, Civil Governor of Chihli, and General Feng Yu-Hsiang, "Christian General," now in control of the central authority, were instructed to take charge of the troops at Shanhaikwan.

FOR DEVELOPMENT

In dismissing Wu Pei-Fu the President appointed him chief commissioner for the development of Koko-Nor. The Koko-Nor district is in Northeast Tibet, near the large salt lake of that name.

EXECUTION ORDERED

Peking, Oct. 24.—Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian General," who has returned to Peking with his army to overthrow the Government under whose banner he was supposed to be fighting against the invading armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian leader, ordered the execution of General Li Yeng-Cheng, private secretary to President Tsao Kun, after General Li had been questioned concerning charges of wholesale financial irregularities.

PREMIER ADDRESSED VERNON AUDIENCE

King Asked Voters of Yale to Elect D. W. Sutherland to Commons

Vernon, B.C., Oct. 24.—Premier King addressed a large audience here last night.

For the Federal by-election contest in the constituency of Yale November 6 D. D. Sutherland, Mayor of Kelowna, Liberal, and Grote Sterling of Kelowna, Conservative, were placed in nomination yesterday.

SUPPORTS SUTHERLAND

In his address last night Mr. King urged the election of Mr. Sutherland. He stated that for the first time in history, through his own efforts, every Province of Canada had Cabinet representation. He felt the electors of Yale could not better show their appreciation of this than by sending a Government candidate to Ottawa to strengthen His hands. The Premier stated the by-election would not affect the standing of the Government, and he asked only that Sutherland might be elected for the balance of the Parliamentary term, and the voters should do as they pleased when the general election came around.

Mr. King referred to the recent Imperial Conference in London, which he said had placed Canada on a sounder basis than ever before.

RAILWAY BRANCHES

A real effort was being made to make the Canadian National Railway lines pay their way, said the Premier, and for this necessary feeders must be constructed.

The Premier reiterated that the policy of the Liberal Government was to reduce or eliminate the duties on the implements necessary for the production or development of Canada's natural resources.

CANADA'S COURSE

Alluding to Empire ties, Premier King said he had been accused of attempts to sever these, but such was not the case. All he had worked for, he asserted, was independence of action where Canada alone was concerned, and this, he added, had been conceded by British statesmen.

HOUSEHOLD LIST FOR REGISTRATION OPEN ONE WEEK

Household registrations for the civic voters' list, which will close at 5 o'clock next Friday afternoon, reached about 600 this morning, or less than one-third of the names which should be on the list, judging by past years. Registration should be made at the City Clerk's office.

The office will be open from 7 to 9 o'clock each evening until and including Thursday evening next.

Registrants must make the following declaration:

"(a) That I am exempt from payment of road tax as I am over sixty years of age.

"(b) That I am exempt from payment of poll tax as I am over sixty years of age and my last annual income did not exceed $700, or

"(b) That I am exempt from payment of poll tax as I have paid to a municipality in the Province of British Columbia assessed taxes to the value of $5 on real property for the year 1924.

"(c) That I am a member of.. .....being a corps in the Province of British Columbia of the active militia or naval forces of Canada, and am certified by the officer commanding such corps as being efficient."

Delegates From Points in U.S. Discuss Church Extension Work

Chicago, Oct. 24. — Lutherans throughout the world were called upon at the convention of the United Lutheran Church, now in session here, to "bridge national boundaries and present a solid front in the conquest of the world for Christ."

PRIVATE BILL IS FORMALLY ISSUED

Council Takes Final Step; Mayor Will Consult Fellow Members

Lengthy Clause Deals With Electric Wiring Regulations

Mayor Hayward announces that a conference of the city and district members of the Legislature will be called at the City Hall to consider the Victoria City Private Bill. This meeting will be held next week, at a date yet to be set. The Mayor will have charge of the bill in the Legislature.

The City Council, at a special meeting this morning, approved the measure as drafted, and ordered the formal petition to the Legislature to go forward.

City Solicitor Pringle tabled copies of the bill, details of which have been discussed from time to time.

Clause 13 has been added to authorize the settlement with the Dominion Securities Corporation in connection with the sterling debentures, the clause being necessarily very explicit owing to the complexity of the issue.

ELECTRIC BY-LAW

The control of electric wiring, for which a by-law has been drawn up, and only awaits the passage of the enabling legislation to have it introduced into the council, is covered by a lengthy clause, framed largely on the powers conferred on the Vancouver Council by its special charter. The exercise of the powers is made subject to regulations under the Electric Energy Inspection Act.

Most of the clauses, particularly those giving power to deal more efficiently with reverted lands, have been fully canvassed.

The clause designed to help fixed assessments for taxation purposes, with a view to encourage industries, is as follows:

"Notwithstanding any law to the contrary the council shall have power to enter into an agreement with any person of persons or corporation fixing upon a definite sum as the annual assessment for the purposes of municipal taxation of any land or lands, or lands and improvements, within the boundaries of the municipality for such period of years as the council may determine; provided, however, that such agreement shall be embodied in a by-law which, before the final passage thereof, has been submitted to the electors of the municipality who are entitled to vote upon a by-law to contract a debt, and has received the assent of the majority of the electors who shall vote upon such by-law."

SURVEYING SITE FOR COOPERAGE PLANT TO-DAY

Industrial Group Chairman Makes Announcement at Meeting

A site for the Canadian Western Cooperage plant on the Songhees Reserve is being surveyed to-day, and plans will be drawn immediately with the assistance of F. A. Pauline and Alderman John Harvey.

Premier John Oliver will be approached to secure terms that will mean the establishment of the plant here, M. P. Blair announced at a meeting of the Industrial Group of the Chamber of Commerce to-day. Evidence of the increasing interest in Victoria's industries was shown by the fact that the meeting was so large that the directors' room was unable to accommodate the number present.

GOOD BUSINESS

In reviewing the negotiations with the Cooperage Company Mr. Blair stated that the success which had met their efforts in this direction justified their year's work. As a result of their negotiations the City Council planned, he said, to apply to the Provincial Legislature for powers to set a fixed rate of taxation over a period of years on the Government-owned lands which could not be purchased but only leased. This would help not only in the present instance but in the case of other proposed industries.

START AT ONCE

Construction of the Cooperage plant would start immediately. It would be a fully modern plant costing, he believed, in the neighborhood of $75,000 to $100,000. The works would be motor driven throughout. There would be no fire except for the dry kiln. The boilers would be modern and up-to-date in every particular and smoke consumers would do away with all smoke. There would be 100 employees, all white, and there would be fifty in the field to supply materials.

There have been many more inquiries recently and people coming to Victoria from other parts are talking prosperity for this part of the country, he stated. He urged every member of the group be alert to seize upon any opportunity he might hear of to bring an industry here and at once notify the secretary of the group so that it could immediately follow it up.

SCHOOL VISITS

N. F. Fynn, secretary of the group, reported that the school children's visits to industrial plants in the city which proved such a success last

COURTEOUS MOTOR OWNER UNWITTINGLY DIVERTS BUSINESS

Trenchant Questions Are Put to Automobilists by B.C.E.R. Manager

Is it in the best interests of this community that owners of motor cars should make a practice of picking up intending passengers of street cars and give them free transportation?

"This question has for many months been giving me serious concern," said A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B. C. Electric Railway Company, to a Times reporter yesterday. "I have for a long time felt that I would like to discuss this question in all its phases with the Victoria public, but have for a long time hesitated in doing so as I fully realize that it is an extremely personal and delicate subject to broach. After much thought, however, I have decided to do so, and can only hope that the seriousness of the situation will justify what might seem to be meddling with other people's business on my part.

STREET RAILWAY IS NECESSITY

"I believe that a good street railway service is of vital importance, in fact a necessity, to Victoria. With that as a starting point, let us consider how it is possible to give a good service. Every business man knows that in his own business he can only give good service if the money he receives is sufficient to pay the cost of giving such good service. Unfortunately, in Victoria, the money received on the street

CANDIDATE IN OLD LAND WAS SERIOUSLY HURT

S. Kelly, Laborite, Beaten by Communists at Meeting in Greenock

Several Other Meetings Disturbed; Rowdyism Was Denounced by J. H. Thomas

London, Oct. 24.—The worst of the series of rowdy disturbances which have marked the British election campaign occurred last night at Greenock, where the Labor candidate, Councillor Stephen Kelly, while holding a street meeting, was attacked by a gang of roughs, kicked, struck on the head with a lead pipe and knocked unconscious.

A fierce fight followed between Kelly's adherents and his attackers, who were apparently supporters of his rival candidate, a Communist. The police rescued Kelly from the scene of the skirmish and dispersed the crowd, but the uproar continued for some time. Kelly was seriously hurt and his campaign engagements have been cancelled.

There were disturbances at several other meetings last night.

Colonial Secretary Thomas in a speech at Derby strongly dehounced the rowdyism, which he said was all due to the Communists. The Laborites, he declared, stood for freedom of speech. If their case could not bear examination by fair argument, it was hopeless. If their case was presented in industrial districts with difficulty they should be allowed to speak anyway.

CLYNES INTERRUPTED

The disorders at meetings are not confined to Conservative and Liberal gatherings. J. R. Clynes, Lord Privy Seal, has encountered the wildest sort of opposition in meetings in his constituency of Platting, a division of Manchester.

A number of women broke up a Maryport meeting which was being addressed by Tom Cape, Labor candidate for re-election in the Workington division of Cumberland. The women drowned the voices of Cape and other speakers by singing "Rule Britannia."

RAZOR WAS USED

John Lazarus, the wealthy young Conservative who is running in North Lambeth against Frank Briant, Liberal, says he is positive the breaking up of his meeting last night, when one of his supporters was slashed in the face with a razor, was the work of about 300 young men, the majority of whom were not eighteen years old.

GROUP OF DISTURBERS

A remarkable occurrence attended the breaking up of a Conservative meeting at Deptford. About thirty men followed the Conservative candidate into the hall. They declared they had been sent by the police to keep order. As soon as the hall was gained, however, a disturbance was started, and these so-called preservers of the peace were the most prominent in the row that took place.

FELL UNCONSCIOUS

A dramatic incident occurred at a meeting held by Sir Charles Wilson, Conservative candidate in Central Leeds. About a score of men rushed forward as if to rush the platform. One man called Sir Charles a dog. Sir Charles raised his fist as if to defend his position. As he did so he fell unconscious, apparently in a fit.

DR. W. EINTHOVEN WINS NOBEL PRIZE

Award Made For Leyden University Man's Contribution to Medical Knowledge

Stockholm, Oct. 24.—The 1924 Nobel Prize for Medicine has been awarded to Professor Willem Einthoven of Leyden University. Dr. Einthoven holds the post of professor of physiology.

The Nobel Prizes, of which there are five, were first awarded in 1901. They have a monetary value of between $30,000 and $40,000. The prize for medicine in 1923 was awarded to Dr. F. G. Banting and J. J. R. MacLeod of Canada.

Professor Willem Einthoven was born at Semarang, Java, Dutch East Indies, in 1860, and received his doctor's degree from Utrecht University in 1885. Shortly afterward he was called to Leyden University, where he still holds the chair of physiology. He has contributed articles to Dutch, British, German and French scientific publications.

SARGENT MAY RUN FOR OFFICE

Interest in Mayoralty Contest in City is Growing Daily

J. Carl Pendray May Decide to Run; Dr. Lewis Hall Drops Out

A new angle to the Mayoralty contest was given this morning when Alderman Sargent, who has had long experience in the Victoria City Council and in municipal life on the prairies, announced that he would consider the invitation of large numbers of leading citizens that he should resign from the council in order to contest the mayoralty.

Mr. Sargent has been chairman of the city finance committee this year, and has another year to serve as alderman. He stated that he had as yet given no indication of what his answer would be, although he was appreciative of the large measure of support accorded to him.

Aldermen Andros and Harvey have already announced themselves as seeking re-election. Alderman Harvey will be a candidate for the mayoralty if J. Carl Pendray does not run. Mr. Pendray has been considering the invitation, but no definite statement can be made. That situation is unchanged from the answers he gave to his supporters, according to a long distance telephone message from him in Seattle this morning.

DR. HALL'S VIEWS

Dr. Lewis Hall, who has given sixteen years to municipal life, two of which were as Mayor of Victoria, says that it would take five years for a citizen entering the mayoralty to straighten things out as they should be done, and it is impossible to hope that the public would renew their support over so long a period. He declares that the mayoralty salary should be curtailed to nominal vote of $1,000, that the aldermen should serve without salary, and that the $6,000 thus freed should be devoted

6,218 POLLS OUT OF 7,332 IN ONTARIO GIVE MAJORITY OF 36,924 FOR PROHIBITION

Total Vote Slightly More Than 1,000,000; Premier Announces Ontario Temperance Act to be Enforced as Strictly as Possible, Though He Anticipates More Difficulty Because of Growth of "Wet" Sentiment

Toronto, Oct. 24.—Ontario's majority for prohibition climbed slowly this morning, increasing a thousand at a time as belated returns from the outlying polls drifted in. There are still a thousand odd of these to hear from and the extent of the victory for the Ontario Temperance Act may not be known for days. Based on returns so far reported, the majority for a continuance of the present legislation stands at 36,924, with 1,114 polls to hear from. There has been delay in some ridings owing to misunderstandings over the methods of reporting the returns.

There are also some remote country polls unreported, but the majorities are small and the final results of the plebiscite will not be greatly affected by the quota of votes.

The total vote, apparently, was very little over 1,000,000, as compared with nearly 1,200,000 cast on the same subject in 1919. There are roughly 2,000,000 people on the provincial voters' lists.

Premier G. Howard Ferguson, in a statement issued this afternoon, declared in effect that the Ontario Temperance Act would be rigidly enforced in view of the vote.

The Premier issued his statement after a protracted meeting of the Ontario Cabinet, which lasted from 11.45 a.m. until 2 p.m. He declared that, as he had intimated in his preplebiscite speeches, he would enforce the Ontario Temperance Act to the fullest extent of the law. He added that there would be more difficulty in enforcing the Act in view of the increase in "wet" sentiment.

PROHIBITIONISTS' PLAN

A campaign for nation-wide prohibition will be the immediate result of the vote in Ontario yesterday. This is the policy of the "drys" as enunciated early this morning by Rev. Ben Spence, leader of the Dominion Prohibition Union, who said:

"A Canada free from the blight of booze is our ideal. The tide of battle has turned. We will not only regain the Western provinces to the dry column, but we will press forward unitedly for complete national prohibition."

Officials of the Ontario Moderation League, who conducted the campaign for free sale of liquor under Government control, commented on the decreased majority for prohibition. The result in 1919 was a "dry" majority of 407,000.

MAJORITY PREDICTION

Toronto, Oct. 24.—A majority of 55,000 for the Ontario Temperance Act on returns already tabulated is claimed by the prohibition headquarters here. "Dry" leaders confidently expect the majority will reach 75,000 when returns are complete.

FOUR MONTREAL BANDITS TO-DAY WERE EXECUTED

Morel, Frank, Serafini and Gambino Paid Penalty For Holdup Murder

Henri Cleroux Was Killed April 1 Last When Bank Automobile Robbed

Montreal, Oct. 24.—Louis Morel, ex-Montreal detective; Arcengiolo di Vincenzo, alias Tony Frank; Guiseppe Serafini and Frank Gambino, four of the six men who were found guilty of the murder in Montreal on April 1 last of Henri Cleroux, chauffeur of a collection car of the Bank of Hochelaga, paid the penalty for their crime a few minutes before five o'clock this morning when they were hanged in Bordeaux Jail, where they had been imprisoned since July 23.

The four went to their deaths in pairs, Morel and Gambino being executed simultaneously on one scaffold and Serafini and Frank on the other. Thus in the dark hours that precede dawn the last grim act of the drama which began when the conspirators plotted eight months ago to rob the car in the Ontario Street subway and to let not even murder stand in their way was performed.

PRAYERS WERE SAID

The condemned men passed the night in prayer and when the fatal hour approached all were resigned to their fate. At 4 o'clock this morning masses were said in their cells by Father Pare and Father Mullin of the Franciscan Order. Prayers occupied about thirty minutes, after which the prisoners completed their preparations for death.

Block System Outlined by Bar Associations Given Official Approval

Intending Litigants Will Have Clear Estimate Before Starting Action

Vancouver, Oct. 24.—Litigation is to be made cheaper and easier under a new system of taxing costs which is shortly to be adopted in the courts of British Columbia.

The Attorney-General has endorsed the proposed changes, which were drawn up by a committee of the Vancouver Bar Association in conjunction with representatives of the Victoria and the British Columbia Bar Associations. The new tariff has also been approved by the judges and will be published shortly as an appendix to the revised Supreme Court Rules and are expected to be operative before the end of the year.

Its prime merit, according to F. G. T. Lucas, president of the Vancouver and British Columbia Bar Associations, is that it makes the courts accessible to people of moderate means who have what they consider a just claim, but who, under the present system, hesitate to take the

WOMEN'S VOTE

The women's vote, especially in the rural districts, is assumed to have influenced the result as it never did before in Ontario. The women were active in voting and supervising the ballot as scrutineers, and even as returning officers.

At the headquarters of the Moderation League, which led the attack on the Ontario Temperance Act, the substantial majority cast by the urban population was commented on, and local option was suggested as the only equitable means of securing to townspeople the form of liquor legislation they desired. Otherwise, it was pointed out, the country people would be in the position of forcing on city dwellers a system they did not want.

I. F. Helmuth, president of the Moderation League, expressed the opinion that in the light of the result it seemed as if it were going to be impossible to enforce the Ontario Temperance Act in the cities and towns.

CABINET'S ATTITUDE

When the vote was ordered by the Provincial Government, Premier Ferguson made it plan that the Government would be guided absolutely by the mandate of the electors. If the Ontario Temperance Act was upheld, the Government would strengthen the act and enforce the principle that liquor could be sold only by Government dispensaries on medical prescriptions. If the act was defeated, it was generally understood that a bill would be brought up in the Legislature next session to repeal the Ontario Temperance Act and to substitute therefor a system of liquor sales in government dispensaries, without medical certificates, but with a reasonable restriction imposed by the Government as it saw fit.

FEN. FENG ASKS MANCHURIANS TO SIGN ARMISTICE

Peking, Oct. 24.—Feng Yu-Hsiang, "the Christian General," was in control of the machinery of the central Government of China to-day after a spectacular surprise military move early yesterday, when his army returned here from the North and took possession of the administrative offices of the regime under the banner of which he was supposed to be fighting.

The move was carried out under the leadership of General Feng in conjunction with other elements opposed to the war programme of General Wu Pei-Fu. It was reported at the beginning of the defensive campaign against the invading forces of General Chang Tso-Lin that the "Christian General" disapproved of General Wu's war measures.

SECRETLY VISITED PEKING

Ostensibly General Feng carried out orders from General Wu to proceed to Jehol at the beginning of the campaign against the Manchurian invasion. He baptized his troops with great ceremony before leaving Peking.

It now appears Gen. Feng never proceeded beyond Kupeikow, seventy miles north of here, on the road to Jehol, but he sent some of his troops North while holding the third brigade at Kupeikow. At times he returned to Peking incognito, it was rumored.

TO STOP THE WAR

At any event, General Feng conferred with his colleagues on Wednesday evening, and this morning Peking was placarded with the announcement of his intention to stop the war.

The announcement called upon all compatriots to join with the forces of General Feng in re-establishing peace, reassuring all elements, especially foreigners, there would be no disorder anywhere.

Peking streets were picketed by Feng's soldiers wearing arm bands reading, "We are here to preserve peace and to protect lives in the service of our country."

CAREFULLY PLANNED

The move against Peking was planned so carefully that no intimation of it reached the public until it was made completely effective. After the Feng troops had entered the city by agreement with elements hostile to the central government, including General Sun Yueh, commander of the Peking garrison, they surrounded the palace at 3 a.m., seized the telegraph and telephone lines and picketed the residences of various ministers in sympathy with General Wu Pei-Fu.

NEW GOVERNMENT

General Feng announced that he intended to break the dictatorship maintained by General Wu Pei-Fu, and to aid in establishing a new government, in which would be incorporated the various factions which are hostile to each other at present.

cars is not sufficient to continue to give good service. What is the reason? No doubt there are several, but one of the chief contributing causes is because many owners of motor cars not only give free transportation to their friends, but in many cases to anybody and everybody they see waiting to board an oncoming street car.

"Many people may well say, 'That is my business. What have you got to do with it?' or something even stronger than that. Perfectly true, except for the fact that I believe a good street railway is of more vital necessity and benefit to the citizens of Victoria than for a certain number of citizens, all of whom are perfectly willing to pay their fare, to get carried for nothing by the courtesy and kindness of owners of motor cars. I would be the last one to suggest that any man should be denied the right, and, very frequently, the pleasure of picking up his friends in his car and driving them to town. I do it myself. We all do it. But the question for all of us is, 'Where is it going to end?' And, if it is true that this practice is seriously jeopardizing the continuance of a good street car service, then the time is coming, in my opinion, when we shall have to decide which we want, as we cannot have both.

COMPANY SELLS TRANSPORTATION

"If a seller of boots puts in his capital and proceeds to build up a business in a store at the corner of Fort and Douglas Streets, and, when his money is invested, a short-sighted but well-meaning philanthropist starts up next door and advertises that he will give away boots for nothing, it is pretty hard on the first seller of boots, and it is only a matter of time before he puts up his shutters. Precisely the same with us. We sell transportation and, in doing so, are the means of giving employment to and keeping in Victoria many hundreds of families. Do you wish us to follow the seller of boots and put up our shutters? I do not want for a moment to panic or to suggest that the street railway service in Victoria is in imminent danger of sharing the same fate as the Saanich division, but I do want to get people to think and to help us in every possible way to make such a catastrophe impossible.

"It is for this reason, and for this reason only, that I have ventured to say what I have, and I trust that the general public will understand and forgive any seeming discourtesy."

CANDIDATE IN OLD LAND WAS SERIOUSLY HURT

While efforts were being made to revive Sir Charles, police entered the hall and the disturbers were dispersed.

A free fight and the removal of the men responsible for it marked a meeting in the Colchester district of Essex, which was addressed by Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, former Postmaster-General.

BALDWIN'S STATEMENT

Stanley Baldwin's statement made at a meeting at Gravesend last night, that the Conservative Party would not go back on its pledge regarding the Imperial preference plan, neither would it propose the taxation of food, clarifies the political situation so far as Conservative intentions on the tariff are concerned.

"It is our object as far as practicable," former Premier Baldwin said, "to get the Dominions to produce more of the kinds of food we want so that by an increase in production, prices will be lowered and we shall be delivered from the hands of the foreign speculators."

NEW ACT PROPOSED

An explanation of the Conservative stand on the tariff was given by Neville Chamberlain at Walsall last night. He said that while the Conservatives did not intend to introduce a general tariff, they would be free to protect any particular industry which was being undermined by unfair competition. This would be done by the introduction of a new Safeguarding of Industries Act, he said.

MISS BONDFIELD'S VIEW

Northampton, Eng., Oct. 24 (Canadian Press cable)—Miss Margaret Bondfield, parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Labor, who returned to her constituency of Northampton last night after a trip to Canada, where she obtained information on the subject of child welfare immigration, was welcomed at the Northampton railway station by several thousand people.

In an interview, Miss Bondfield declared:

"I can most emphatically confirm the statement of Mr. Thomas, the Colonial Secretary, regarding the importance of the change of policy toward the Dominions adopted by the Labor Government.

"Marquis Curzon's course while he was Foreign Secretary with regard to the place of the Dominions in foreign affairs, has been severely criticized in my presence by people of all shades of political opinion."

Touching on her mission to Canada, Miss Bondfield said there was evidence that the result thereof would be to relieve misunderstandings on the subject of child immigration and to open up new avenues of approach on the immigration question, which was of such vital importance in Canada.

LUTHERAN LEADERS MEET IN CHICAGO

the saints and of the household of God."

All present Lutherans, to some extent, even in this country, according to delegates, are organized along lines of national origin.

Dr. Morehead called for world union.

IN FOREIGN FIELDS

Three important projects looking to the expansion of its missionary work in foreign fields were submitted to the convention to-day for approval. The recommendations were contained in the report of the Lutheran Board of Foreign Missions, as follows:

To purchase from the Berlin Missionary Society of Germany its entire missionary establishment in Shantung, China, for $185,500, and provide for its operation hereafter by the Lutheran Mission Board.

To build a Lutheran college in India for the use and advancement of all Protestant missions and churches in the Teluga area, to be known as the Andhra Christian College. The initial cost is estimated at $300,000. The convention was asked to approve a project by the mission board to raise that sum for capital expenditure and endowment.

IN SOUTH AMERICA

That the Board of Foreign Missions be authorized to co-operate with the La Plata Synod of the Lutheran Church in organizing a United Lutheran Church in South America on the same doctrinal basis as the United Lutheran Church in North America.

The Shantung Mission, located in one of the most densely populated provinces of China, already has been taken over by the Lutheran Missionary Board under an agreement to pay the $185,000 for its transfer in ten annual instalments. To carry on the work of this mission, the board asks for a special appropriation of $60,000 a year.

BOOKS ALMOST BALANCE

Expenditures of the mission board for the two years since the last convention have totalled $1,642,266, which has been almost balanced by receipts. This society supports forty-four missionaries and makes large grants to the funds expended jointly with the mission board in several foreign fields.

IN ASIA AND AFRICA

The board reported that the collapse of the German missionary societies during the World War forced the United Lutheran Church to expand its operations in Asia and Africa. In India, the mission board's largest field, the Luthern Church has ninety missionaries, 3,220 Indian Christian workers, and 150,500 members.

Extensive plans for expanding its work in Japan were announced. These include plans for the erection of numerous buildings and the establishment of a girls' school.

to the salary of a city manager. He alluded to the success of C. J. Yorath at Edmonton in straightening civic finances out.

Dr. Hall renewed his declaration of policy that the police should be under provincial control, and a proper training school for recruits set up, as he detailed at some length a year ago, and which he has since urged upon the Attorney-General.

In declaring that he cannot accede to the request for contest the mayoralty, Dr. Hall expressed his thanks to the numerous friends who had urged him to stand.

In view of his well known views on police consolidation The Times asked him why not offer himself for commissioner, as there was a vacancy shortly? To this question Dr. Hall replied that the only office he would care to accept from his fellow citizens was the mayoralty, in which they had honored him previously.

Rumor at the city hall this morning indicated that a surprise nomination for the Mayoralty might be expected in a few days.

It is understood the Canadian Labor party is giving some consideration to the question of running candidates both for council, and for the school board.

PROCESSION IN JAIL

At 4.30 Sheriff Lemieux arrived, escorted by Napoleon Seguin, governor of the jail, the latter in his uniform and the sheriff in his robes of office. A procession was formed inside the jail, with the guards marching ahead and two court criers wearing the regulation robes and hats following. The end of the procession was made up of the governor, the sheriff, the clerk of the crown, E. A. Ladouceur and Oscar Belanger, assistant to the sheriff.

Morel and Gambino walked to the gallows. Gambino was in a state of collapse and had to be supported. The Franciscan fathers held out crucifixes which the condemned men kissed.

MOREL'S SELF-CONTROL

Morel had to bear the ordeal of waiting his turn and as the priest held the crucifix to Morel's lips, the prisoner stared steadfastly ahead of him, averting his eyes from the grim work at his side. He held himself erect, his chest expanded.

The final act was mercifully expeditions.

IN OTHER YARD

The second pair of executions was carried out with the same celerity in the yard on the other side of the jail.

MOREL LEFT LETTERS

Louis Morel wrote two letters last night, one to his daughters and the other an appeal to the Creator.

The first read:

"To My Children:—

"I write you my last thoughts before leaving this earth. My heart is torn with grief and remorse at the miseries I have caused you. I beg God to keep you and I also prey to Him to prolong your lives and keep your souls and your hearts charitable as you have been since giving me the eternal kiss. I love you, my children, and I pray to God to bring you beside me in heaven."

ASKED FORGIVENESS

The second letter read:

"The The Creator:—

"I offer You my death in a spirit of reparation for all the sins of my life. I offer You my death as an act of perfect love, as my last act on earth. I forgive everybody and I implore the Holy Virgin to lessen the wrath of God and preserve Nieri from eternal malediction."

GOVERNMENT THANKED

While it was not produced by the authorities in detail, it was stated that Serafini had signed a letter thanking the Government for the reprieve of Valentino and Davis, and declaring them both innocent of the crime.

A SAD VIGIL

All through the night a sad vigil was maintained outside the gates of the jail. The wife and the mother of Tony Frank sat in cars stationed near the big entrance. At times they gave vent to their emotions, their cries and supplications to be admitted being audible for a long distance.

Earlier in the evening Mrs. Gambino had paid her last visit to her husband in company with Mrs. Valentino. The contrast between the two interviews was dramatic. Mrs. Gambino was almost prostrated with grief at the knowledge that she was saying her last farewell, while Mrs. Valentino was transported with joy at the commutation of her husband's sentence to life imprisonment. The two women left the prison together.

The crime for which Louis Morel, Tony Frank, Frank Gambino and Guiseppe Serafini were hanged this morning was the holding up of a Montreal collection car of the Bank of Hochelaga on Tuesday afternoon, April 1 last, and the shooting and killing of a messenger, Henri Cleroux. Harry Stone, a notorious bandit and gunman, a member of the gang, was also killed in the affair.

The hold-up was the most sensational of its kind in the history of crime in Canada, if not on this continent. The collection car had been the rounds of a number of branches of the bank in the east end of the city, and was taking to the head office a sum of money in the neighborhood of $500,000. When it approached a subway under the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks on Ontario Street East eight masked men surrounded it on all sides. The bank car had to stop on account of a car the bandits had placed across the narrow road. A bandit also cut the trolley wires to prevent street cars from approaching the spot.

CLEROUX KILLED

The bandits began shooting at the occupants of the bank car at once. The messengers returned the fire. Cleroux, who was driving the bank car, was soon mortally wounded, and another employee was hit in the hand. The bandits ran a car alongside the collection car and one of their number boarded it and threw the money bags into the street, from which they were transferred to the robbers' automobile. The sum of $142,188 was secured before men began to come to the assistance of the bank messengers. A traffic policeman off duty came on the scene, and with the aid of some C.P.R. men drove the bandits away. While they were fleeing Stone was hit.

The bandits, when they found Stone had been killed, abandoned their car for another, driving it to the outskirts of the city, where it, too, was left.

TELEPHONE NUMBER CLUE

The police got their first clue to the identity of the thieves when they found a telephone number written on a piece of paper in Stone's pocket. A visit that night to the house where the telephone was, resulted in the arrest of Guiseppe and Mrs. Serafini, Ciro Neigro and his companion, Emma Leblanc. Later the police found a false cupboard in the place, in which was hidden $32,000.

On April 23 Emma Leblanc turned King's evidence, and directly connected Serafini and Neigro with the robbery.

On April 25 a man named Adam Parillo was arrested in Bridgeport, Conn., in whose possession was found $7,900 in Canadian currency.

The following day police arrested Leo Davis, Tony Frank, Frank Gambino, Louis Morel, Mike Valentino and several other men. Only the five mentioned by name were detained. It was then announced that Neigro had turned King's evidence, and had described in detail to the police the whole carefully laid plot to rob the bank car. Morel, who was an ex-city detective and a fine athlete, appeared to be the ringleader. The others were all well known in Montreal's underworld, particularly Frank.

Serafini was tried first, but the jurors disagreed, six being in favor of a manslaughter verdict, and six in favor of murder.

TRIAL IN JUNE

On June 7 the trial of all six for murder began, and ended in a verdict of guilty of murder. They were sentenced to death by Mr. Justice Wilson. One of the features of the trial was the discovery that before their arrest Frank and Gambino, under assumed names, had been able to enter Bordeau Jail and have a conference with Serafini and Neigro.

On August 26 Montreal was startled by the news that Serafini had nearly escaped from the jail, having, as a matter of fact, got out of the death cell into the yard, and only the warning of a prisoner, who saw him hide in a pig pen, had prevented his getting away. A number of jail guards were arrested charged with aiding Serafini to escape.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT

The appeals of all but Davis were dismissed on September 30. Davis's case was taken to the Supreme Court of Canada, because the Appeal Court judges were not unanimous in dismissing his appeal. Morel testified for Davis that he was not present at the hold-up and knew nothing about it till afterwards.

Davis was given a respite while his case was appealed to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court dismissed the appeal yesterday.

Valentino and Davis were the objects of executive clemency yesterday when it was announced by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, that their death sentences had been commuted to life imprisonment.

POLICE INQUIRY

An aftermatch of the case was an inquiry into Montreal police affairs before Mr. Justice Coderre, which is still proceeding.

The police have been unable to recover nearly $100,000 of the money stolen.

WRANGEL PARTY IS NOW IN SIBERIA

Charles Wells, American, and Twelve Eskimos Now at Petropavlovsk

Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka, Oct. 24.—After a tempestuous voyage, the Soviet Russian transport Red October arrived here to-day from Wrangel Island with Charles Wells of Uuniontown, a survivor of the expedition which Harold Noice took to the island a year ago, and with twelve Eskimo members of the expedition who are United States citizens.

Professor Davidovo, chief of the Russian, explained that Wells and his Eskimo companions had been taken off the island because they had no desire to remain, and because they had no permit from the Soviet Government to live or hunt there.

The Red October ran short of coal in mid-Arctic and had a difficult time in making this port.

During the survey of Wrangel Island, the Russians found the flagpole on which the British flag had formerly floated, having been run up to claim British sovereignty. Members of the Russian expedition constructed a new pole on which they hoisted the Red flag in behalf of the Soviet Republic.

According to Professor Davidovo, Wells and his companions attempted to flee when they caught sight of the Red flag over the island, fearing they would be cast into prison or executed. Their alarm was dispelled, however, when the Soviet officials assured them they did not intend to harm them.

STORY TOLD

Professor Davidov gave the following narrative of the expedition:

"We landed on Wrangel Island August 20. At Rilewgers Harbor our party found a pole without a flag and a small house containing food supplies and scientific instruments. This was an indication that somewhere near there must have been some life.

"We erected a flagpole on which we solemnly raised the Red flag, taking possession of the island in the name of the Soviet Government. We left a written record of this event in Russian and English.

NOTE WAS FOUND

"At another point we found a bottle containing a note in English stating that Wells had gone to the Bay of Doubt. Then suddenly to the east we observed a boat with five passengers coming toward our ship. Apparently the occupants of the boat thought our vessel was an American ship which had come to rescue them, but when they reached a point about fifty yards from our boat and saw the Red flag they attempted to flee. We stopped them by our cries of reassurance. In the boat were Wells and four Eskimos. We later found eight additional Eskimos on the island. These "birds of prey" had food for only six months. Wells had hidden away two flags, one a United States flag and the other a Canadian.

MADE PHOTOGRAPHS

"We did some hydrographic and meteorological work and made photographic and moving pictures of the most interesting views of the island. As there was danger that our vessel would be caught in the ice if we remained longer we decided to return to Russia immediately. Wells and the Eskimos did not wish to remain on the island, so we took them aboard our boat."

year would probably be taken up again this Winter. The school authorities had requested, however, that no prizes be offered as they claimed it interfered with regular studies. Surprise was expressed at the request and School Inspector Deane will be asked to visit the meeting next Friday to speak on this phase.

HOME PRODUCTS FAIR

J. B. Clearihue reported that the Armories would be available for a Home Products Fair two days in August. A committee volunteered to canvass business men and manufacturers of the city to see if they were in favor of a Home Products Fair and would place exhibits.

NEW INDUSTRIES

G. L. Rudd, a recent visitor from England, whose five sons have recently established a boat business at the Causeway and the Gorge, was introduced to the meeting.

R. T. Williams, vice-president of the Davis & Schmeelk Carton and Paper Box Company, which has recently been established here, also gave a few particulars of the industry. The machinery had been purchased in Britain cheaper than it could be bought in the United States, he mentioned. At present the new factory had all the business it could handle, but in a few weeks' time would be in a position to extend. "You will hear more noise when we are all complete," he told the meeting.

Japanese Co-operating With Nations, Says Delegate to Geneva Conference

Quebec, Oct. 24.—The chief of the Japanese delegation to the International Opium Conference which will be held in Geneva during the first week of November, S. Kaku, former executive head of the Formosa Government, issued a statement on the Japanese view of the traffic in opium and other dangerous narcotics just before sailing for Europe on the Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of Scotland. This statement declared that "the suppression of opium smoking and better control of dangerous narcotic drugs in the Far Eastern countries are the things which must more effectively be carried out, and in order to achieve this the co-operation of all countries concerned is required, hence the purpose of the present conference.

"The Japanese Government has been exerting the greatest efforts in connection with this problem in the past and it will not be behind any country in co-operating to carry out the purpose of the conference."

Mr. Kaku declared he could not say what was planned by his Government in the matter of co-operation until after the international meeting, which would probably last four weeks.

He said he and his party had enjoyed a very pleasant voyage across the Pacific on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia and hoped that the Atlantic would be crossed just as agreeably on the Empress of Scotland.

WOULD EXTEND PERMANENT WORK

Sooke People Hope Paving Will be Continued Westerly

Special to The Times

Sooke Harbor, Oct. 23—In view of the fact that a large settlement of over three hundred people has been developed in Sooke during the last few months, a public meeting under the auspices of the Sooke Farmers' Institute is being held in the Sooke Hall on Saturday evening, Oct. 25, to discuss the necessary improvements in the district which are required by the new conditions.

It is proposed to urge upon the Minister of Public Works the necessity of continuing the permanent surface along the main Sooke Road from Happy Valley, and to see that proper provisions are made during the coming session of the House for the proper upkeep of the local roads to meet the increased traffic of the new settlement.

The meeting has been called for 8 o'clock.

TWO DEATHS AT LADYSMITH

Directors of Agricultural Show Faced With Deficit

Special to The Times

Ladysmith, Oct. 23.—The death occurred yesterday of Zacari Benjamin Palmer, aged seventy-six years. The late Mr. Palmer has resided in this Province for the past sixty years, and has resided in Ladysmith for eighteen years. For the last three months the late Mr. Palmer has been employed as caretaker at the Ladysmith Agricultural Hall. He was a native of Virginia. He is survived by two sons, Benjamin and John of Fernie, and two daughters, Mrs. I. E. Lowe and Mrs. Chas. Wickers, both of Ladysmith. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of D. J. Jenkins.

Another death occurred at Ladysmith yesterday, when Leona Agnes Blair, fourteen-year-old daughter of Robt. Blair, passed away at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. H. Michie. Leona was very popular with her school companions, and her sudden death will come as a great shock to them. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of D. J. Jenkins, and will not be settled until the arrival of her father from Coalmont.

The first meeting of the directors of the Agricultural Society following the Annual Fall Show, was held this week, and the directors found themselves confronted with a deficit of considerable amount, which will have to be met. This deficit includes prize money and other debts contracted in connection with the show, the Government grant this year being smaller than usual. To offset this amount outstanding the society have decided to hold a monster whist drive some time next month, when it is hoped that the deficit will be wiped off the books.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Stirling left for Victoria to-day, where they will in future reside.

CONSIDERS SKUTZ FALLS SCHEME BEST AS BASIS

Duncan, Oct. 24.—The following outline of the hydro-electric needs of Duncan and North Cowichan has been prepared by a committee of the North Cowichan Council:

1. That a thousand horse power or 600 kilowatt plant is the minimum power needed for the two districts together.

2. From data already in possession of the city, it was decided that the project at Skutz Falls is the most feasible. Chemainus river has been found too low in Summer to provide the necessary power for a 1,000 horse power or 600 kilowatt plant. (This was ascertained by tests made by the B.C. Hydro Metric Survey in 1916.)

3. That before expert opinion and surveys, which would cost several thousand dollars, were undertaken, an attempt should be made to estimate costs, and probable sources of revenue from statistics already in possession of the city and municipality.

4. An estimate of costs of the Skutz Falls project on an equal proportion basis with the city is appended. It is estimated that 170 consumers would be found and twenty-five miles of transmission line needed in the municipality.

5. Additional estimates as follows are also appended: (a) Estimated costs of Skutz Falls project, city carrying three-quarters and municipality one-quarter of capital cost of plant and maintenance of plant. (b) Estimated costs of municipal lines only, including maintenance.

ON EQUAL BASIS

Estimated costs of Skutz Falls project on a fifty-fifty basis with the city.

Total capital costs of installation at Skutz Falls, transmission lines to Duncan, and power house in Duncan, $160,000.

Capital—Fifty per cent. of above to be borne by the municipality, $80,000, twenty-five miles secondary transmission line, at $3,000 per mile, including transformers, etc., $75,000; 170 meters at $12, $2,000; total $157,000.

Sinking fund—Amount required per annum, $3,770; interest at 5½ per cent. $8,635; total, $12,405.

Annual maintenance—Fifty per cent. maintenance of plant, $4,000; maintenance of municipal lines, $2,000; $6,000.

Total annual expenditure, $18,405.

The city of Duncan in 1912 obtained a report from Messrs. Dutcher, Maxwell Co., on a 300 kilowatt plant at Skutz Falls. This estimate is based on that report. The estimated cost of transmission lines was obtained by telegram from S. J. Halls, manager, light and power department, B.C. Electric Railway Co. The only source of revenue is the estimated 170 consumers.

QUARTER SHARE BASIS

Estimated costs of Skutz Falls project, city carrying three-quarters and municipality one-quarter of capital cost of plant and maintenance of plant:

Capital—Twenty-five per cent. cost of plant, $40,000; twenty-five miles of secondary transmission line, $75,000; 170 meters at $12, $2,000; total, $117,000.

Sinking fund—Amount required per annum, $2,309; interest at 5½ per cent, $6,930; total, $9,239.

Annual maintenance—Twenty-five per cent. maintenance of plant, $2,000; maintenance of municipal lines, $2,000; total, $4,000.

Total annual expenditure, $13,239.

MUNICIPAL LINES ONLY

Estimated cost of municipal lines only, including maintenance:

Capital—Twenty-five miles secondary transmission line, $75,000; 170 meters at $12, $2,000; total, $77,000.

Sinking fund—Amount required per annum, $1,849; interest at 5½ per cent. $4,235; total, $6,084.

Maintenance, $2,000; total annual expenditure, $8,084.

COWICHAN STATION

On Tuesday, Oct. 21 the annual Trafalgar Day dance was held at the C.A.A.C. Hall under the auspices of the Sir Clive Phillips-Wolley Chapter of the I.O.D.E. For some time the regent, Mrs. L. C. Knocker, and a committee in charge have been hard at work to ensure the success of this popular gathering. About 160 people were present and good music, good floor and a good supper was the general verdict.

The decorations showed tasteful arrangement in the hands of Mrs. Hunting and Mrs. Morten. For this occasion of commemorating one of England's greatest naval victories an historical note was struck in pictures of national events hung amid the greenery, while curtains of red, white and blue presented a cheerful aspect. Shaded lights with small Japanese umbrellas were a novelty.

The orchestra under the clever leadership of Mr. Heaton played inspiringly.

Supper arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. Knocker, Mrs. May, Mrs. Averil, Mrs. Birch, Mrs. Kennington, Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Turner and others. An excellent menu provided by the members of the order was highly appreciated.

It was observed that many debutantes in charming frock made their appearance at this dance.

NEW OIL CONCERN

WILL REMAIN DRY

ONTARIO WILL RETAIN the Ontario Temperance Act. Yesterday's majority for the "dry" forces was nothing like as large as it was in 1919; but the Government will no doubt regard the verdict as decisive enough for its purpose.

The result will not have surprised many people. The Province of Ontario has very definite and fixed views on the subject of the liquor business. It has watched other parts of the country abolish their "dry" laws and substitute various forms of Government sale and control. But it is obviously not ready to follow the example of Quebec and the West.

Until all of the returns have been received Premier Ferguson will make no statement. He is being pressed to take note of the urban as compared with the rural verdict and consider the feasibility of "wet" and "dry" action.

There is little likelihood that the Government will consider local option. Ontario is no stranger to the system and everything that it remembers about its operation is unpleasant and unsatisfactory. A comparatively small verdict in favor of liquor control might have altered the circumstances; but there is nothing in the vote so far to justify a change in conditions as they have existed since 1919.

The fact that the urban localities have gone decidedly "wet" and rural districts "dry" is not a factor in the issue. The whole matter is one of provincial and not of sectional concern. As such it has been decided.

WHAT IS THE MATTER?

WHAT IS THE MATTER with people in this city who consider it waste of money to advertise Victoria? What has got into their systems that makes them throw up their arms in despair of any good coming out of anything? Is it ignorance or indifference? It is just about time an answer was forthcoming in order that the progressive elements in the locality may learn the full extent of the load which they have to carry.

Some of the arguments which are being advanced in support of the contention that Victoria's advertising bill should be cut down are so far-fetched as to make one wonder what sort of an axe their sponsors are attempting to grind. They tell us that it is money wasted to advertise Victoria, that only a small section of the community benefits by the tourist business, that our only salvation is lower taxation. All this is absurd.

Some time ago a British boot cream which used to be known all over the world disappeared from the market. Why? The firm believed that it had made its reputation and required no further advertising. It went bankrupt. Last Summer more than three thousand businessmen from this continent crossed the Atlantic to attend a world advertising convention in London. Why? Because not one delegate thought he knew it all; he went to learn some more, to exchange ideas.

Victoria must advertise now and all the time. It must follow the example of other thriving communities, some of which were mere sand patches when this was a city.

NOT OUR BUSINESS

IS IT THE PROPER THING for the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia to cable ex-Premier Baldwin and express the hope that his efforts will be crowned with victory when the votes are counted on October 29?

The general drift of the message is that the British Columbia organization is convinced that imperial preference "is the surest way of consolidating the Empire and of curing unemployment." And Agent-General Wade has been notified of the cable and asked "to give it the fullest publicity throughout Great Britain."

Canada gave Great Britain a preference because it suited Canada. Canada has increased that preference from time to time because it suited Canada. Canada would have accepted a Dominion preference if the people of Great Britain could have given it as freely as this country gave preferences to British goods. But the people of the Old Country respectfully declined to change their fiscal policy for the benefit of the Dominions. The people of the Dominions recognized the right of their kin across the sea and the matter dropped. Interests wider than sectional advantage were obviously involved and left their influence.

What right has the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia to interfere in a domestic issue in Britain? What right has the London Chamber of Commerce to give Canada advice on matters which the people of this country are considered competent to solve? And the Agent-General for British Columbia surely has plenty to keep him occupied at No. 1 Regent Street without sending the Boards of Trade cable to all the newspapers of Britain.

Surely it ought to be apparent to every public body in this country that now, above all times, just when Canada has succeeded in straightening out her position within the Empire, is not the time to expose this Dominion to an attack in a sore spot in her national armor.

"SPORT" AND SPORT

SOME TIME AGO SIR Leo Chiozza Money, a statistical wizard in British finance, took occasion to emphasize the disastrous results of betting upon races among the working classes in England and suggested that the only way to counter the curious delusion that this is "sport" is to provide more abundant opportunities for the exercise of genuine sport.

Sir Leo's observations call to mind a letter which recently appeared in The London Times from an English traveler in Spain. Its contents alluded to the touchiness of the average Spaniard when his national pastime draws the remonstrances of other nations and went on to suggest another way of killing the evil as follows:

On traveling from Algeciras to Seville last Autumn I was struck by the appearance of a column in a Spanish newspaper headed "Futbol," giving accounts of football matches in different parts of the country. The popularity of the game ("Soccer") was emphasized by the appearance of goalposts erected in various directions, even so remote and small a town as Alkala having its football ground. On inquiry, the opinion was expressed that so many young men were now taking to the game, and such crowds being attracted to the matches, that there would soon be no room for the bull-fight. The S.P.C.A. might do worse than give encouragement to the game by organizing tours of English "Soccer" players to the Sunny South.

Football will no doubt have to be developed upon intensive lines in Spain if national inclination is to be mated to a new form of national amusement. The country's gory entertainment seems to be a much more stable institution than Parliament and certainly commands more respect from the people as a whole.

THE LAW AND INSANITY

THE PLEA OF INSANITY in recent murder cases is causing a good deal of controversy in the press on both sides of the Atlantic. A mainland contemporary quite logically argues that if friends and acquaintances of any individual believe him to be insane, they ought to report his condition to the proper authorities before and not after the crime.

There is obvious point to the argument. The unbalanced member of society, if his abnormality produces criminal inclinations, may seek a victim among his own kith and kin with just as much lack of consideration as he would choose a stranger. Thus the course advocated might well be one of family protection.

Reduced to a plain argument, however, it also seems logical to suggest that the difference between actual insanity and legal insanity is that a verdict of acquittal would undoubtedly go a considerable way to cure the latter in the majority of instances.

DR. FRANK CRANE —ON— "CLUBS"

A NEWS item reports that there is a considerable decline in men's clubs.

This is as it should be, for a club is about the dreariest place in the world. It has been described as an institution kept up by a thousand men for the benefit of ten bachelors.

The club was doubtless originally designed as a man's refuge from women.

As women are becoming more like men, and indulging nowadays in the same callings that men indulge in, men no longer want to escape.

They like to have the women always about the place. One cannot imagine why it was the men ever wanted to escape from them.

Men, when they are together, discuss their food, their work, with an unwholesome solemnity. But to lunch, even in the cheapest hotel or restaurant, is to mingle with humanity in its healthiest and most cheerful mood.

Lunch, in a city club, is one of the most boring and dreary ceremonies imaginable. Men in clubs talk lugubriously in undertones. In restaurants there are laughter and romance. The office is forgotten, the recreation is complete. Staid men and women lose, temporarily, their aging lines and the lackluster look in their eyes gives way to a genuine sparkle as they mingle with the fresh faces of young lovers snatching precious moments over their food.

The club is an excrescence of the class idea. It is the endeavor of one kind of people to get away from the other kind. It is a phase of the instinct to escape from humanity. But there is no real joy that is not a part of humanity and a man finds out, sooner or later, that happiness runs vertically through all strata and is not confined to a single class.

KNOW YOUR COUNTRY

KAYAKS

Q.—What is a kayak?

A.—A kayak is the name of a small canoe-like craft made by the Eskimos on the shores of Coronation Gulf, within the Arctic Circle of Canada. It is built of sealskin and wood and is used by them for hunting seal and walrus. Long sea journeys are often made in them from the mainland to the various islands when in search of game.

THE SIZE OF ALBERTA

Q.—What is the size of Alberta?

A.—Alberta has an area of 255,000 square miles, with a population of less than three to the square mile. It is larger twice over than the British Isles with a population of less than a tenth of London or New York. It is larger, too, than Germany or France. Only a sixth of its cultivatable area is under cultivation, leaving more than 15,000,000 acres free for homesteading.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

JANE SEYMOUR

Queen of England, the third wife of Henry VIII., died on Oct. 24, 1537. She was lady-in-waiting to Catharine of Aragon, Henry's first wife, and later to Anne Boleyn, his second. She was married to the King on the day after Anne Boleyn's execution.

DANIEL WEBSTER

Distinguished American statesman, orator and lawyer, died on Oct. 24, 1852. His entry into politics was as a Congressman from New Hampshire; later he represented Massachusetts in the House, and also as United States Senator for nearly twenty years. He was Secretary of State in two administrations. He first achieved fame as a lawyer in the Dartmouth College case, and as a statesman and orator in his debate with Hayne.

IDA LEWIS

HOW DID THEY VOTE?

To the Editor—About a week ago I read your correspondent's report of the meeting in Toronto of the National Council of Women, in which it is stated that they "went on record, by a narrow margin, as being in favor of the complete prohibition of alcoholic liquors as a beverage in Canada." To-day I read the report of the same matter, as given by The Montreal Witness, in which it was stated that "the vote was without a dissenting voice."

It is exceedingly unfortunate if there is any misunderstanding of such a very important vote on so vital an issue. The Witness is noted for its painstaking in the matter of furnishing the facts bearing on any current event, and it looks to me that your correspondent either belongs to the army of "wets" who furnish special "news" for the press, or that he has allowed them to "put one over on him."

Perhaps some British Columbia delegate would be willing to give us the real facts.

WM. ELLIOTT.

Victoria, October 21, 1924.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

To the Editor:—British Columbia is a new province, and as might be expected, its institutions are only in process of formation, yet its public school system, often criticized adversely, compares favorably with that of any of the older provinces of the Dominion. A a school teacher, a graduate of a university and for many years a minister of the gospel, it is my firm opinion that the public schools, where our boys and girls are learning the foundation for complete living and the developing of their intellectual powers, is more important to the nation than are its academies and universities. Not many seem to think so, but it is a fact all the same. All the boys and girls attend the public school where the substratum of their character as citizens is laid, while comparatively few attend the colleges, and even of those who matriculate not fifty per cent graduate. At present a large number of the best teachers make school teaching a stepping stone to some other employment or profession where the renumeration is more adequate.

None but the best instructors should be engaged as teachers in the public school, and to secure these permanently for the profession their salary must be more liberal than it is in most schools at present. I admit that taxes are too high, and the burden on taxpayers too heavy, but the burden should not be made lighter by reducing, as some advocate, the salaries of those public servants who are doing the most important work for the weal of the Dominion. A reduction of salaries would result in placing inferior instructors in the public schools to the irreparable injury of our children. Good instructors are never too dear, but poor instructors are too dear at any salary, however, low. As the school years of boys and girls are limited, the schools should be provided with the very best teachers so that the pupils may have the opportunity of making the very best of their school period.

The most serious defect, in my humble judgment, in the school curriculum is shutting the Bible out of the schools. This leads to a godless education which is sure to be followed by a godless civilization. Even to think of our beloved Canada having a godless civilization with the responsibility on us, makes me tremble.

Since the war Bolshevism has been slowly and almost imperceptibly entering Canada. Without imposing on your space to expound the Bolshevitic economic propaganda, allow me to refer to some of the tenets of the creed of Bolshevism, namely, that there is no God; that man is a product of evolution; the monkey being his immediate ancestor; that the origin of religion was the worship of dead progenitors, before whose altars candles were burnt, and laudatory songs were sung; that the celestial world with God as king, angels as servants, thrones, mansions, palaces, cities and kingdoms are only imaginary reflections of this world, religion must be stamped out, for like narcotic drug it soothes, charms and excites. By shutting the door of our public schools against the Bible we are practically renouncing Christianity, and opening the door to Bolshevism and other anti-Christian speculations against which the Bible and the Bible alone is an impregnable bulwark.

J. CAMPBELL.

A SUGGESTION

To the Editor—In your issue of the twenty-first comes the long overdue but expected proposal of the Government to give a land grant with the P.G.E. Railway to get rid of it. I was in this Province when the people voted for such a railway-building programme, listening attentively then to the McBride-Bowser Government of the vast resources this railway would tap and its assured success, going through the richest country any railway was ever built. Some years later I listened to the Oliver Government (then owners) of much the same strain re the great possibilities and rich country this railway was passing through and leading to, I think it safe to say, fifty million of dollars have been spent to-date by both Governments in railway bluilding or, at all events, in connection with the P.G.E.

I have never heard anything about this great, rich country with its vast railway possibilities having been washed away or buried, and take it for granted that the same possibilities are there now as when the railway was commenced. Now, Sir, let me suggest to you that Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King has done three outstanding things for Canada: First, he would not let Lloyd George and Curzon lead Canada into another war without knowing why; second, negotiated the much-talked-of Halibut Treaty with U.S.A.; third, the greatest of all three, he went outside politics and procured a railway manager for the Canadian National Railways. Is this connection could it not be arranged between the King Government at Ottawa and the Oliver Government in British Columbia to let Sir Henry Thornton run the P.G.E. independent of politics for the remaining period the Oliver Government is in power in British Columbia and the King Government at Ottawa? Should such a condition or arrangement be made and Sir Henry enhanced the P.G.E. as much as he has the C.N.R. British Columbia would soon be without a railway problem.

BABY BOOTLEGGER WINS

New York, Oct. 24.—The American Power Boat Association at its annual meeting here yesterday sustained the reports of the committee which declared the Rainbow, victor in last year's gold cup races, ineligible for the place prize and placed the laurels upon the gunwale of the Baby Bootlegger, flying the colors of the Columbia Yacht Club, which makes the latter club the defender in 1925 and brings the power-boat classic of the world to Eastern waters next year for the first time since 1915.

All 1924 officers were re-elected at yesterday's meeting, the racing rules revised and other rules clarified.

Horace E. Dodge, son of the late Horace E. Dodge, Detroit manufacturer, inaugurated a new race for next season with an endowment of $25,000, the interest of which will be used to defray the expenses of a Horace E. Dodge memorial cup race for the interclass title.

WRESTLING TOURNAMENT

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—Renato Cardini, representing Italy, defeated Ivan Brasoff, Russia, in the feature match last night of the international wrestling tournament. He threw the Russian in thirty-seven minutes with a headlock.

Frank Judson, Harvard coach, threw Soldier Levitt with a reverse body hold in ten minutes fifty-three seconds. Both are Americans.

Frank Bruno, Ukraine, threw Josef Breitberg, Austria, in fourteen minutes fifty-two seconds with an arm and leg hold.

Peps

At this time of the year, special care must be taken to protect vital parts in the Throat and Chest against dangerous chills and the strain of changeable weather. The simplest and most effective precautionary measure is to take Peps.
As Peps tablets dissolve in the mouth they give off powerful volatile medicinal fumes. These have a purifying, invigorating and fortifying influence on the entire breathing system. They swiftly exterminate mischievous germs in the throat and air-passages, banish troublesome coughs, colds and chills, and strengthen and protect chest and lungs.
IMPORTANT.—The immediate 50% reduction in the price of Peps is only made possible by increased sales & lowered costs.

For beauty you fail to get
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I am not a cosmetic maker, not a beauty expert. My work is on the stage and screen. But I have had advantages which most girls and women lack. I had a rich, ambitious mother who took me in a world-search for the utmost in beauty helps. Then when I became a famous beauty, every great scientist who made a discovery sent it at once to me.

Edna Wallace Hopper

Now I wish all girls and women to share that good fortune with me. I found helps which multiplied my beauty, and which have kept my youthful beauty to my grand old age. And great experts tell me that every woman can in like ways secure like results.

So I am placing these helps, which I spent a lifetime in finding, at every woman's call. All druggists and toilet counters now supply them. But with each comes a guarantee. I instruct every dealer to return the money to anyone disappointed, and charge the amount to me.

My marvelous complexion is largely due to a super-cream, it combines the products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that modern science knows how to foster, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. And my baby skin, at my age, shows how much it means to women. No woman I have ever met has ever found a cream to compare.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is now supplied by the Owl Drug Co. at 60c per jar and 35c per tube. Write me for my beauty book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Caught Disease On the HANDS!

Skin disease threatens us every day. Invisible germs of blood-poison, eczema, etc., are waiting to infect the least cut or sore place. The money you use carries germs—you get them on the handles, rails and straps of the trains and street cars, and in a score of other ways.

Solely through Zam-buk, Mr. Henry C. Davis, of South 17th Street, Kansas City, U.S.A., has just escaped a virulent type of eczema, contracted, he suspects, through use of public towels.

"I had medical advice," he says, "tried in addition all sorts of so-called eczema remedies, without finding the hoped-for relief. Zam-buk treatment soon gave positive results. It took away the painful irritation and quickly purified and healed the deep troublesome sores."

WOMAN WAS FOUND DEAD IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Oct. 24. — Reclining against the arm of a small couch in the back room of the house where she had lived alone for the last two years, the body of Miss M. Stevens, sixty-five, 730 Hamilton Street, was found by police called by the owner of the house yesterday.

Alarmed by the fact that they had not seen the woman for the past week, neighbors communicated with the landlord, whose son, J. G. Gunn, found the body of the tenant in the back room and at once notified the police.

TWO PROPRIETORS OF PAPERS IN COURT

Ruling Soon on Contempt Proceedings in St. Johns, Newfoundland

St. Johns, Nfld., Oct. 24.—The proprietors of The St. Johns Daily News and Evening Telegram appeared in the Supreme Court yesterday to show cause why they should not be sentenced for contempt. The action arose as the consequence of articles which appeared in these papers following the finding by a grand jury of no bill against Sir Richard Squires. The full bench heard arguments of counsel, and judgment was reserved.

The chief justice intimated that as the crown counsel had stated in court that the case against Sir Richard Squires would be brought to the grand jury at a later date it would be improper for him to be tried in the newspapers, and that if in future any article appeared that might prejudice the trial, crown counsel should bring the matter to the notice of the court and the court would deal with it.

OREGON HONORS JUDGE HOWAY

B.C.'s Leading Historian is Selected as Hon.-president of Oregon Society

His Honor Judge Howay of Newwestminster, president of the B.C. Historical Association is the recipient of fresh honors, this time bestowed by the Oregon Historical Society by electing him to the position of honorary president.

This society may only have one such officer according to its constitution and when the office became vacant through death, they scanned the country for a successor. The high regard in which Judge Howay is held in the world of letters and of historical research is not affected by international boundaries and he was at once selected and unanimously elected.

As a testimoniay from the Oregon society the Judge received to-day a very beantiful illuminated copy of the minutes regarding his appointment. Very little in the way of ornamentation is used beyond the colored capitals but the whole is conceived in exquisite taste and executed in Old English text in a way to delight the eye. The certificate which follows the minute is done in beautiful script and at first glance is pronounced lithographic. The whole is of generous size and enclosed in a cover which displays the same high class pen work.

His Honor is justifiably proud of the souvenir, not only for its intrinsic artistic worth but for the compliment it represents as having been paid to himself and his country.

Grace Wood Jess Coming Thursday In Song Recital

Grace Wood Jess, singer of folk songs, gave her third recital at Portland a few evenings ago. Charming as ever it is said that she sings, not only with her fluent lyric soprano, but with her mobile face, her lissome, expressive body and her exquisite, flexible hands. The songs are given with delightful self-unconsciousness. It is doubtful whether Miss Jess ever thinks of her voice from beginning to end. Fortunately it is a fluent voice, and it readily answers her artistic demands. One might classify it as a voice, par excellence, of a musical raconteur.

It is difficult to say in which kind of songs she excels. Her first appearance in the flowing silk dress of Mrs. Lincoln, suggesting the old southern days, is intensely American, and the old English songs which survive in the hills of Vermont, Kentucky and Virginia are of the true ballad flavor. The Creole songs, sung in the feminine glory of hoop skirts and pink taffeta, have the elusive romance of something glimpsed behind a lattice. Her appearance for the Spanish group is like a sudden, unprepared change to another tonality. She comes in a flash of dazzling scarlet and sings the songs in their own native tongue. The Russian group, with its peasant abandon, its stamp of the little red-heeled leather boot to accent the rhyihm, and a certain audacious "something" that Miss Jess infuses into its tragedy and its comedy, makes the drama racially characteristic. But when the singer trips in after an absence of five short minutes, looking as if she had just stepped daintily from an old French picture book—then, indeed, one knows Grace Wood Jess for the devastating little heart - breaker she is!

The quaint old French songs were given with delicate comedy, bewitching archness, and makes the listener think of rose-leaves, old lace and old-fashioned, moonlit gardens. Altogether Miss Jess is a singer of allure, and her singing "Hear Me Sing!" never suggests the tiresome challenge of many recitals, but rather invites one with "Here's the Loveliest Story!"

Grace Wood Jess will give an entirely new programme on Thursday evening of next week at the Empress Hotel ballroom. The plan and programme are now at Fletcher Bros., where all seats may be reserved.

Incomes of Three Members of Gould Family Held Back

New York, Oct. 24.—Incomes of three members of the Gould family were held up out of respect to the marriage clause in the will of the father, Jay Gould, according to information obtained from Edwin Gould yesterday at the hearing of the $82,000,000 accounting suit before Referee Gorman.

A codicil to the will declared that "if any of the children married without his consent during his lifetime or after his death without the consent of a majority of the trustees, they would forfeit one-half their share of the estate."

Edwin Gould testified the trustees had impounded the income of George, principal objector to the present accounting, although he did not think the action was taken on account of the marriage clause. Half of Howard Gould's income was withheld, he said.

It also developed that the Bankers' Trust Company had help up the income of Mrs. Helen Gould Shepard under the clause and her general liability as trustee.

There was no question about Edwin's marriage, his counsel stated in answer to questions.

Edwin Gould admitted that $7,500,000 of the estate's funds had been put into the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company to aid John D. Rockefeller in his efforts to rehabilitate the concern. Some of the estate's best bonds and securities had to be sold to make purchase, he admitted. All the estate has to show for it now are the bonds of the Colorado Industrial Company and the common stock of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, attorneys discovered by questioning.

ANOTHER LECTURE BY PROFESSOR ARMAND TO BE GIVEN TO-NIGHT

Owing to the marvelous demonstrations made on local sufferers on Wednesday and the fact that many people through other engagements were unable to attend the afternoon lecture, Prof. Armand has decided to accede to a popular demand and will therefore repeat his lecture and actual demonstrations this evening at 8 o'clock, using the methods of Dr. Emile Coue's auto suggestion and also the method of the original school of Nancy, France. Local persons who are suffering from nervous complaints such as headache, neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, stammering, St. Vitus' dance, weak eyes, nervous deafness, asthma, sleeplessness, sleep walking, constipation, neurasthenia, dyspepsia and functional paralysis are invited to attend. Many local people were greatly helped at last Wednesday's lecture and demonstration, and it is anticipated that many more will be helped at the demonstration to be given at the Conservative Association Hall, Campbell Building, this evening.

Day By Day Prominent Citizens of This City Give Statements Strongly Endorsing Dreco

Persons Who Once Suffered From Constipation, Gastritis, Nervousness, Weak Kidneys, Sluggish Liver, Headaches, Catarrh or Rheumatism, Openly Declare the Great Herb Remedy, Dreco, Has Brought Relief.

To Every Sufferer, the Advice is Given to Go to Vancouver Drug Co., Limited, Get Dreco and Begin the Treatment To-day.

You can blame no one but yourself if you continue to suffer, after being told over ond over again where you may secure almost instant relief from any of the common daily troubles from which thousands in this city suffer. There are many outward symptoms which show up, but when we trace back to where they come from, nine times out of ten, we find they come from a disordered stomach, a lazy liver, weak kidneys or constipated bowels.

Those are the organs which Dreco acts upon directly, and that is why so many people say that Dreco has relieved them of gastritis, nauseated stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous headaches, biliousness, dizzy spells, foul breath, constipation, pains in the back, sore muscles, rheumatic joints, catarrh of the head or stomach.

HAD TO TAKE LAXATIVES

Victoria Lady a Victim of Chronic Constipation Which Dreco Relieves to Her Comfort and Satisfaction.

"For a long time I had suffered from constipation," says Mrs. Mary Lamb, of 860 Colville Road, Victoria, B.C. "I was continually taking harsh laxatives until my system became so accustomed to them that I could not get along without one every night. My stomach was in bad shape and I suffered greatly from indigestion. My liver was sluggish, too, and spots floated before my eyes."

"I tried many different kinds of medicines and remedies, but could get no relief. Then I saw in the papers how much good Dreco was doing for others and decided to give it a trial, too. I have only taken two bottles of this grand remedy and already am feeling better in every way. My constipation is relieved. I digest my food more readily and my entire system is feeling the benefit."

Let Dreco correct the functioning of your digestive organs. It rids the system of poisonous waste matter and aids in the assimilation of the nourishing value of the food you eat. Dreco is purely herbal and contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

TWO YEARS OF AGONY

Weak Stomach Made Life a Burden for Victoria Lady, But Dreco is Rapidly Helping to Restore Her to Health

"For over two years I had suffered terribly from stomach trouble and constipation," says Mrs. A. F. McLellan of Point Ellice, Victoria, B.C. "Gas formed on my stomach after eating and it would bloat me up in an awful way. I would get severe spells of heartburn and my liver was sluggish, too, so that I had frequent dizzy spells and spots floated before my eyes. My appetite was very poor and I had to constantly take laxatives. I tried many medicines, but kept getting worse and worse and when I first read about Dreco I had very little faith in it, thinking it would be like all the rest.

"Anyway, I decided to give it a trial and you would hardly believe it, but two bottles of this wonderful medicine have done marvels for me. I cannot remember when I felt so good as I do now. I haven't been bothered with gas since the first bottle and can eat and enjoy most anything now. My liver is active and so are my bowels and I no longer have dizzy spells or spots before my eyes."

"Master your digestive system before it masters you. Take Dreco and let its pure, natural herbal juices tone and regulate the vital digestive organs and induce their healthy activity. Dreco contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Victoria by VANCOUVER DRUG CO., LIMITED, Corner Fort and Douglas Streets. Go to-day to their store and ask for Mr. Vaughan, the Dreco Expert and let him explain the merits of this great remedy. There is no charge and he will tell you honestly if he believes Dreco will benefit you. Dreco is also on sale in New Westminster and Vancouver by Vancouver Drug Stores and in other towns as follows:

Old Man Gannon So Earnest His Day Never Came

New York, Oct. 24.—Old Man Gannon never finished his job. There wasn't time enough. So few of us find time to do the big things we want to do.

Unless someone claims his body before these lines reach print, Old Man Gannon will be buried in Potter's Field.

For twenty years he lived in the same room over in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn. He always paid his rent, although he never worked and seemed to have no source of income.

Day in and day out he sat and read of Caesar, Alexander, Napoleon and other heroes of the centuries.

When they found him dead, they found these histories with dog-eared pages and marked passages. They found pen and paper, but the paper was blank. Old Man Gannon had a story to tell, but it was left untold.

He had intended to write a history some day, but that day never came.

Perhaps there is no importance in being earnest, after all.

Old Man Gannon was earnest. He wouldn't do the job unless he could do it well.

Maybe the job wasn't as big as he thought it was. We all so often magnify our ideas that they seem unreal, out of reach.

And if he had done the best he could, his body might not now be unclaimed.

SPIRIT!

Willesden Wife: "My husband says he does not care for any magistrate."

Magistrate: "I rather like that fine spirit of manly independence."—Tit-Bits.

Can't make head nor tail of this wine, James."

"Doesn't seem to have much body either, sir!"—Tit-Bits.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25

Rather active and fortunate conditions are presaged from the dominant mutual aspects reigning on this day. Mars is the ruling planet, inciting to initiative and bold operations and stimulating all the faculties and forces to aggressive and enterprising projects. This may be emphasized in all that concerns letters, publishing, advertising or generally in the matter of bargain and sale. Pure speculation should, however, be avoided.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of activity and enterprise, with the energies turned in the direction of large and bold projects. Speculation should be avoided as well as undue extravagance. A child born on this day may be expected to have an energetic and resourceful disposition, brave, generous and well respected. It should make a decided success in all its affairs, if properly trained.

POTATO RECIPES TO BE DEMONSTRATED

Novel Competition Arranged in Connection With Potato Fair Nov. 27

That humble but necessary vegetable, the potato, will come into its own on November 27 to 29, when a provincial potato fair will be held in Vancouver at the Manufacturers' Buildings. The fair is being arranged by the Department of Agriculture with the co-operation of the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade and the Associated Potato Growers.

In connection with the affair there will be a demonstration every afternoon, under the auspices of the Women's Institutes, to show the many different ways of using potatoes. There will also be a competition for the best display of twenty-five different ways in which potatoes are used, and it is expected that housewives from all parts of the Province will take advantage of this opportunity to show their culinary skill.

Mrs. E. H. Tomer, provincial chairman of the agricultural committee of Women's Institutes, is sending out an appeal to the women to support this fair and in so doing to show their loyalty to the white producers of British Columbia. Her letter says in part:

"Never before have the farmers needed the support of the city housewives as they do to-day, if they are to stay on the land and produce.

"As you know, the farmers have many problems and difficulties to face, and they are making a very great effort to produce the highest grades of products for you. This is particularly noticeable in the growing of high grade potatoes from certified seed obtained from the Provincial Government."

CROWDS ATTRACTED DAILY TO EXHIBIT

Arts and Crafts Collection to Close To-morrow With Dance

To-morrow will see the close of the Island Arts and Crafts Club annual exhibition after one of the most successful showings in the history of the club. Thanks to the interest displayed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor who this afternoon made his second visit to the collection, a fillip was given to popular interest, and the average attendance has been over 100 daily.

The children of the city have been invited to attend the exhibition to-morrow morning between 10 and 12 o'clock and will be admitted free if accompanied by their school teachers or other responsible adults.

The exhibition will close to-morrow evening at 6.30 and later in the evening will culminate in an informal dance in the exhibition rooms in the Belmont Building.

EGYPTIAN FEMINIST

By LADY DRUMMOND HAY

Mme. Zaghlul is the wife of Saad Pasha Zaghlul, the Egyptian Premier. I had heard of Mme. Zaghlul long before I ever met her. During her husband's exile from Egypt, following on the Alexandria riots of 1921, Mme. Zaghlul, single handed, continued her husband's policy and kept open his house as a centre of political activity and a meeting place for his followers. Situated in a delightful residential quarter of Cairo, the villa, known as the "House of the Nation," witnessed many stormy gatherings and secret cabals.

Even in these early days of women's emancipation, Mme Zaghlul had sacrificed convention and frequently addressed large meetings of men, displaying no mean gifts of logic and oratory.

Representing the exiled Saad Zaghlul as a martyr, working upon the imagination of the people by whom she was looked upon as a high priestess of patriotism, she kept alive and fanned the flame of Egyptian Nationalism.

Echoes of her vehement and stormy denunciations of her husband's enemies had reached me, and I was astonished when I met the Pasha's wife. I had imagined a virago, and met a gracious and charming woman. Daughter of the then Prime Minister, Mustapha Pasha Fahmy, she married Saad Zaghlul in 1896. As a young woman she must have been very lovely. She is always well and tastefully dressed, appears to be the essence of womanliness, and has a gentle graciousness of bearing for those whom she likes.

Her chief care and preoccupation is her husband, to whom she is deeply devoted, and who, in his turn, pays the most sincere tribute of appreciation to his wife in professing himself an earnest advocate of emancipation for Egyptian women and in declaring himself anxious in every way to assist the feminist movement, in which Mme. Zaghlul plays an active part.

In conjunction with other Egyptian women of high education and social standing she is indefatigable in organizing and promoting charitable works, taking a keen, practical interest in education, art, and science, ever ready with advice and help for those who seek here aid. Her good works are recognized all over Egypt, but I have never been able to persuade her to talk about them.

For her all other satisfactions pale beside the supreme one of having been and being still an active co-worker with her husband during the most eventful years of his extraordinary career.

MRS. LILLIAN BELL ENTERTAINED CLUB

Women's Canadian Club Highly Diverted by Author's Talk

Humor and pathos with a dash of philosophy to give piquancy were blended in the talk which Mrs. Lillian Bell of New York gave before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon, and the frequent laughter and applause which punctuated her remarks, revealed the interest with which her breezy commentary was received.

MAD ABOUT PRINCE

Mrs. Bell informed her large audience that she was visiting Canada for the first time, absorbing impressions which were later to be published in New York. Seen through American eyes, Canada offered a wealth of material to the writer, and in each city she found distinctive features which "simply made the articles write themselves."

In Calgary Mrs. Bell met the Prince of Wales and she confessed "like all Americans I am simply mad about him." The Prince had made a request for a copy of Mrs. Bell's book on the Christmas Ship, a request to which she acceded with much gratification, Queen Mary having accepted a copy at the time of its publication a few years ago.

"OUR LADY OF THE LEMON PIES

Her book on the Christmas Ship, Mrs. Bell explained, followed her organization, during the war, of a collection of money and gifts amounting to over $2,000,000, which was sent to the orphans of Belgium. In addition to this gigantic task, Mrs. Bell raised $35,000 for distribution among soldiers in the American hospitals, had taken 300 wheel cases for a two days' cruise and for five years worked in the New York hospitals for the wounded. On one occasion she collected and distributed thousands of lemon pies, and humorously observed that if she were ever canonized it would be as "Our Lady of the Lemon Pies."

Mrs. Bell read a chapter from one of her books of "The Jimmies," made famous some years ago when she visited Europe at the request of The Ladies' Home Journal, and wrote a series of travelogues in humorous form. It was her intention, she said, to resuscitate the Jimmies in her articles on Canada.

A second reading which proved highly diverting was that describing a shopping expedition by Mrs. Galloway, a lady of ponderous bulk, whose adventures kept the audience in a state of laughter.

A WAR POEM

A serious note was introduced by Mrs. Bell in the recitation of her poem, "Trees of God," beautiful verses inspired by the war memorial avenues which have been erected in all parts of the United States to commemorate the soldier dead.

At the close of her entertaining talk, Mrs. Bell was presented by Mrs. H. P. Hodges, the president, with a bouquet of pink roses and chysanthemums.

The musical part of the programme was furnished by Miss Justine Gilbert, who delighted the audience by singing a group of her own clever composition, Mrs. A. J. Gibson lending artistic support at the piano.

I.O.D.E. BURSARY FOR OAK BAY SCHOOLBOY

Municipal Chapter Announces Award; Donations to War Memorial Fund

The awarding of a bursary to Maurice Woodley of Oak Bay High School was reported by Miss A. B. Cooke, educational secretary, at the meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E. yesterday afternoon. Miss Cooke also stated that H.M.C.S. Resolution Chapter was giving a record of the Prince of Wales's talk on sportsmanship to the Burnside School.

Mrs. Curtis Sampson, the regent, cordially welcomed Mrs. McCulloch, the new regent of the H.M.C.S. Resolution Chapter.

Letters of thanks and appreciation were received from the Educational Secretary for a donation of $100 towards secondary education; from the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., for the milk fund, and from the V.O.N. These three charities come within the circle of the disbursements of Alexandra Rose Day funds, which include hospital and child welfare work.

Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, of the Soldiers' Graves Committee, requested the Chapters to decorate the soldiers' graves for Armistice Day, either filling the cross with laurel, or making wreaths and adding two or three poppies to each, which will be found at Municipal headquarters after November 6. She also urged the primary Chapters to continue their subscriptions to soldiers' graves, as there was much work to be completed, and many requests to do so.

Mrs. H. K. Prior the treasurer announced the receipt of donations from the following chapters to be sent to the Victoria War Memorial fund: Gonzales, $25; Royal Bride, $10; Florence Nightingale, $5; Camosun, $5; Esquimalt, $5; Valentine Harvey-Beaumont Boggs, $5; Dr. O. M. Jones, $5.

The Chapter voted a donation of $25 towards medical treatment for a most deserving case brought before the meeting by Miss Snyder, secretary of the Social Service League.

YOUR HEALTH

SECURE MORE SUNLIGHT TO LIVE BETTER AND LONGER

By Royal S. Copeland, M.D.

In the community where I live is a club. It is not a golf club nor a country club. Called the "Community Club," it is exactly what the name indicates. Here meet the rich and the lowly. Brokers and great merchant princes mingle with farmers and day laborers.

A short time ago the whole neighborhood gathered at the club for a Fall frolic. It was a wonderful day. "King Tut" and "Queen Tut" were crowned. There were all sorts of races and contests. Everybody spent an entire day in the open.

It is a pity that it requires a lot of trouble and advertising to get folks outdoors. For the sake of health and long life, a part of every day of the year should be spent in the open.

Sunlight has more than a mere mental effect. It is productive of actual chemical and physical benefit to the human race. It has its effect on the blood, adding power and virtue to the red blood. It is germicidal, too, killing bacteria which might harm us if given the opportunity.

The sun's rays number not only heat and light rays, but also "actinic rays." These last-mentioned rays have a beneficial chemical effect upon the human tissues.

Every mother should take her baby into the sunlight every day. The older children should be required to spend hours out-of-doors.

When you tell folks to get into the air, they think this means to walk or exercise. Lots of people don't like to walk. They have sore muscles or sore feet. They have the backache or else are lazy and dread to exercise.

Of course it is better to add movement to the sun bath. But the out-of-door period will be at least sixty per cent. as good if you spend it sitting on a bench in the park, or on the top rail of the meadow gate.

Sunlight, muscular exercise and deep breathing—all to be had in the open air—produce effects which will add months and probably years to any life. There can be no doubt of this and he is a foolish man who neglects to seize the benefits that can be had so easily and so cheaply.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH WILL MARK FUTURE OF ISLAND IN HARDY BAY VICINITY

Completion of Wharves and Near-finishing of Coal Harbor Road Are Beginnings of Era of Prosperity and Settlement On Island's North End, Investigators Believe

The steady growth of industry which has marked the progress of the northern portion of Vancouver Island, the looming possibilities of a remarkable commercial future, are at last being realized. A. F. Mitchell of the Dominion Public Works Department, who has just returned from a tour of inspection at Hardy Bay, tells of the completion of the wharf at that point and the preparations being made for a period of unprecedented activity.

From other sources as well come stories bright with promise of a future prosperity. T. F. Clulow, a resident of Hardy Bay, writes that the district about Kains Lake has been inspected by representatives of American investors and that the country has been found ideal for agriculture and stock raising.

S. S. Pugh, representing Portland interests, for Oregon men have their eyes fixed upon the northern portion of Vancouver Island for development along certain lines, has found that the district about Kains Lake is exactly what is required for a cattle-raising industry.

STARTING CATTLE INDUSTRY

Mr. Pugh has expressed his intention of importing 250 head of cattle as a beginning of an industry, and in the very near future will have herds grazing over the pasture land of the North Island. The only thing required to open up the extensive country around Kains Lake is a road, and as soon as Mr. Pugh can arrange the construction of a temporary trail through the seven miles of country between Kains Lake and Hardy Bay, then development work will start.

As an example of the rapid growth of Hardy Bay itself, which is a distributing point for British Columbia logging outfits across the water on the Mainland and a dozen near-by Islands, the building operations at the site of the new Federal Government wharf are most encouraging. John Nicholson & Son of Hardy Bay are building a large structure which, when completed, will be one of the finest general stores within two hundred miles radius.

BUILDING ACTIVITY

Albert E. Smith, another resident of the district, is erecting a two-story building which will also serve as a general store.

Clulow and Read are finishing a big billiard parlor, where the fixtures will be of such a description as to attract the trade of the many miners, farmers, loggers and road construction men who flock through Hardy Bay at various times.

A hotel is already begun, backed by Vancouver capital, and there is every reason to believe that it will do thriving business the year around.

A. M. Lyon, postmaster, is attending to the arrangements for the building of a new post office, and himself is putting the money behind the erecting of another general store. This is the third store under construction.

RESIDENCES GOING UP

Over and above the plans for business buildings, there are many already settled in their new houses, and plans for others are completed or just commencing. The supplies of lumber and other building materials are all too few to satisfy the demand, it is said.

There is a large floating population at Hary Bay, and although the regular residents are all too few, these are rapidly on the increase. It is estimated that there are about 359 persons at Hardy Bay at the present time. But the trade that comes to the place from the Seymour Inlet and various other points means much to the thriving and steadily growing town.

The work on the Hardy Bay-Coal Harbor Road is now almost finished, and when the route is completed it will be the long-desired link between the East and West coasts of Vancouver Island.

WHARF IS READY

Communications from the Dominion Department of Public Works, sent out by J. P. Forde here lately, announce to the various steamship companies the completion of the wharf at Hardy Bay and the expectation of a considerable trade from this time onwards. The people of the district are vastly encouraged by the attention they are attracting and their efforts to attain some degree of success are now likely to meet with better results than have been their lot in the past. The Government docks, the Government roads and the interest displayed by investors from all parts of the Pacific Northwest inform the resident population of Hardy Bay in no uncertain way that their opportunity for a progressive march has arrived.

BELAND SAYS IT MEETS EVERY TEST

Insurance Man Gives Tanlac Credit For Restoring Health.

"In my case Tanlac has accomplished what seemed impossible," recently declared Ernest Beland, a well-known insurance man, 523 Chambly Street, Montreal, P.Q., Canada.

"Last Winter I was taken down with grippe and at the end of two months, in spite of all that could be done, I was so completely wrecked that my friends nor myself thought I would ever get well. For weeks I could not sleep except by the use of opiates and the pains combined with shortness of breath, choking sensations and a nagging cough, made life almost unbearable.

"Two bottles of Tanlac improved me so I was able to get up and move about the house, and by the time I finished my seventh bottle my recovery was complete, and I was able to return to my work. My appetite has come back in full force, I sleep good, have put on eleven pounds, and feel fine in every way. Tanlac is priceless."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40,000,000 bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills recommended by the manufacturers of Tanlac. (Advt.)

BID FOND ADIEU

Seattle, Oct. 24.—Seattle's Filipino colony bid "bon voyage" to passengers on the Admiral Oriental Line steamship President McKinley, when she left here yesterday for Manila and the Orient. Among the passengers were Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion prize fighter, and Lucio and Simplicio Gedino, twin brothers joined together as were the Siamese twins.

BETTER MARKET IS EXPECTED SHORTLY FOR LOCAL LUMBER

Three Weeks Will See Brightening, it is Hoped; Mills Busy at Present

Lumber men here look for a renewal of activity in the lumber markets in from two to three weeks' time, it was stated by millmen of Victoria this morning. Considerable shipping has been done from this port in the past few weeks, but the mills now face a short period of comparative slackness before they will once more be faced with rush orders. At present they are working in preparation for several large orders, however.

The Malta Maru, which left Alberni last night at 5 o'clock was expected here this morning, but up to an early hour in the afternoon she had not been heard from.

The Malta Maru is to loak shipments of lumber from local mills for New York, Boston, Chicago and other points on the Atlantic seaboard. The Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company is placing 350,000 feet aboard the vessel. The Cameron Lumber Company is also sending a considerable parcel on this ship, and the Moore-Whittington Mills will load a small shipment of about 100,000 feet for Boston.

TWO OTHERS COMING

There are two vessels to load lumber here next week. One of these, the Canadian Government ship Canadian Winner, takes a large shipment of Japanese squares to Yokohama. The Moore -Whittington Company is placing 110,000 feet on this vessel, and the Canadian Puget Sound mills are also loading 250,000 feet of the squares. Other mills, too, are assisting in the loading of the ship.

The Key West, sailing for Australian points after she has been loaded here during next week, takes a big load of lumber to the market in the Antipodes. There is a period of quiet expected in this quarter, however, following the next week's shipment. The Canadian Puget Sound people will put 450,000 feet aboard the Key West, it was announced here this morning. Other Victoria mills will send their portion into the vessel's hold, and she will take a large quantity of timber, totaling well over 2,000,000 feet, it is said.

FROSTS HURT BUILDING

The reason for the added quiet in the Atlantic seaboard markets is said to result from the frost which has been holding up building in the East for the past several days. No orders have come through to the western mills from eastern points since frost slackened building operations. However, there is an apparent revival of the Japanese markets. The building in Yokohama and Tokio is calling for further shipments of lumber from this and other British Columbia points.

JAP MARKET BETTER

The better class of building in the ruined Japanese cities is being made with new lumber but the smaller, cheaper structures are making use of the old lumber which lies piled about the city, it is said. Mills here expect a revival of trade with Orient points shortly. After the presidential elections in the United States, the markets should strengthen there considerably too. But the conditions of the Australian market is questionable. Two months should see it asking considerable shipments from B.C., however, local millmen hope.

CANADIAN PACIFIC LINER DUE ON WEDNESDAY

EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA

Canadian Pacific steamship, on her way here from the Orient with a good passenger list and a big cargo, will make this port on Wednesday, it was announced from the offices of the agents here to-day.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Oct. 24.—Neil Haig, resident manager here for W. L. Comyn and Company, returned yesterday from a visit to San Francisco and announced the chartering of two more vessels to load at north Pacific ports.

The ships chartered were the Norwegian Nels Neilson and the Japanese steamship Miho Maru.

The intercoastal freighter Dorothy Luckenbach finished discharging a cargo here yesterday and is to be lifted out of the water to-day with the Todd Drydocks Inc., plant for hull cleaning and painting.

Balfour, Guthrie and Company announced the coming to Seattle of the chartered steamer Chorvlken. It is to load grain.

O. H. Eisenbeis, district manager of the McCormick Steamship Company, wih headquarters here, said that general cargo business southbound from Seattle in the coastwise trade is good and that the coastwise lumber traffic has shown improvement.

Seattle, Oct. 24.—Shortage of bait in Alaska and the approach of the closed season for halibut fishing have sent halibut prices upward on the Seattle halibut exchange in Pier 8, it was disclosed yesterday by quotations. Two thousand pounds of No. 1 halibut, brought to port by the schooner Discovery, sold at thirty-four cents a pound, the highest price reached by halibut in Seattle this year.

NOT THEIR FAULT

Traveling by train to market one day, half-a-dozen burly farmers completely filled the railway carriage. At one stopping-place a tall, cadaverous-looking individual opened the door of the compartment and tried to get a seat between two of the men.

Finding this beyond him, he stood up and remarked:—

"Excuse me, gentlemen, but you really must sit up a bit. You know that according to Act of Parliament every passenger is entitled to eighteen inches of sitting accommodation."

"Aweel, my mannie," replied one of the farmers, "that's a' very fine for the like o' you, but ye canna blame us if we're no' constructed accordin' tae Act of Parliament!"

Mr. Q.: "Why do you call your baby 'Scandal'?"

Mr. P.: "Because, try as we will, we can't hush her up."

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

FINE OLD BRITISH SPORTSMAN AGAIN GIVES CHALLENGE

Sir T. Lipton Will Make Fifth Attempt With Another "Shamrock"

New York, Oct. 24.—The new boat of Sir Thomas Lipton, who stated here yesterday that he had definitely decided to challenge for the America's Cup again, will be named Shamrock V., following the first four yachts of the same name which failed to lift the cup in 1899, 1901, 1903 and 1920.

"I could not go back on the Shamrock," the genial baronet commented, "I think I will capture the cup this time and I believe that my victory would be as popular in America as in England. If I fail, however, I am not saying that I won't be back again. I'm only seventy-five years old now and I would like to add the America's Cup to my collection, which is already the largest owned by any one man in the world."

THE LATEST GIBE

The latest gibe at the Aberdonian was made the other day by an Edinburgh elder, who was taking part in an induction service.

Two lovers from Aberdeen were on a trip to the Scottish capital, and, as usual Princes Street was the centre of attraction. After walking about, the young man noticed one of the picture houses, which displayed in bold letters "The Woman Pays!"

"Jean," said he, "I think we'll gang in here!"

BIG TANKER HERE FOR REPAIRS

Mina Brea in Drydock at Esquimalt To-day and Will Be Clear Next Week

The Mina Brea, a big oil tanker operated by the Imperial Oil Company between Ioco and southern points of the Pacific Coast, was floated into drydock yesterday afternoon and will be clear and away inside a week. She is expected to be out of drydock by next Wednesday.

Cleaning, painting and hull inspection will be the chief items of work which is to be done on the big tanker. She will also have her engines overhauled.

There will be some other vessel in drydock before the Tatjana finally is up for her big item of repair, it was officially stated at Yarrow's plant this morning. The next vessel which goes into the drydock, however, was not made known. When she is finally cleared the Salvage Company's ship will be taken in, it is understood.

The Stadacona left Yarrow's wharf after engine room inspection and is understood to be making final preparations for an offshore trip.

The Prince Albert is still at the wharf, however, and awaiting the action of the courts and the company which has brought claims against her for damage to cable off the California Coast.

WHEN MUSIC MADDENS

East London Woman: "When ever I go to the street door his wife sings at the top of her voice, 'That coal-black mammy of mine.'"

The wife: "Well, she never washes."

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

STEAMSHIP LINE PAYS DAMAGES

Colonial Motor Company Wins Case and $20,000 Against Shipping Concern

Vancouver, Oct. 24.—For damage sustained by the Colonial Motor Company of New Zealand to a consignment of 140 motor cars, Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald has awarded it judgment against the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand.

His Lordship has directed the registrar of the Supreme Court to conduct a reference for determining damages.

The Colonial Company claims approximately $20,000 for damage to the automobiles while en route from Vancouver to Auckland on the defendant company's steamship Waimarino. The damage occurred through salt water when the Waimarino encountered a storm off Suva in February, 1919. The cars were stowed on deck.

LIFEBOAT READY FOR EMERGENCIES

Banfield Crew on Duty at All Times on West Coast

High praise for the well-drilled lifeboat crew at Banfield, west coast of Vancouver Island, is drifting in from sea, largely through the medium of salt-hardened deep sea and fishing skippers. The lifeboat crew, these narrators say, are on their toes under Capt. Brady, and perform like high-class city fire brigades.

A recent demonstration is described by one of the visiting master mariners. He had gone into Barkley Sound in a stout coast boat, before a bitter southeast gale. The wind howled, the waves thundered, the lightning tore the firmament asunder, the rain fell in torrents. Four miles off Wreck Point, a dangerous position in that kind of weather, a Japanese tramp was blowing off surplus steam and looking for a pilot. Pachena, on the lookout, telephoned Estevan that a vessel was apparently in distress there. Estevan wirelessed Banfield. And then the visiting captain painted the following picture:

"The gates of the boathouse swung open, the lifeboat slid down the cradle to the water. As she moved her crew leaped aboard, pulling on slickers, hats, boots, and took their stations. The engineer started his engines. Coming on a run through the storm was the wife of the captain bringing him his storm coat. The boat hit the water with her engines going strong, the coat was tossed aboard as she pulled away top speed. It all was done in less than two minutes. As the lifeboat tore away in the dirty weather a lightning bolt crashed against a nearby cliff and seemed to shatter the world. The rain fell in sheets. It was an ideal picture of life on a lifeboat in action."

This run, was one of many false alarms that the crew answers in its line of duty. The vessel they went to around Cape Beale in the teeth of the storm off the open ocean, was not in distress, and the boat came back to the station, resumed her cradle and shelter, and the crew settled down to await some other call.

He was born in Motherwell, Scotland, and lately resided in Seattle, but for about nine years was a resident of this city. The late Mr. Torrance is survived by his widow, at present in Vancouver; two sons, Messrs. Thomas and James Torrance of this city, and one son in Scotland; two daughters, Mrs. Royle of Vancouver and Mrs. Richards of Beverly Mills, California; also thirteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The funeral will be announced later.

The funeral of the late Frank Hood taak place from the B.C. Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon at 3.45, proceeding to Ross Bay Cemetery, where service was held at the graveside by the Rev. R. The funeral of the late Alexander Dallas, who passed away at his home, Cadboro Bay, on Tuesday, took place yesterday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Home. A large number of friends attended, and the many beautiful floral tributes gave testimony to the esteem in which Mr. Dallas was held. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., conducted the service, during which two hymns were sung, "The Sands of Time" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The service at the graveside was conducted by the A.F. & A.M., of which order the late Mr. Dallas was a life member. BIG INCOME TAX SUMS COMPARED

John D. Rockefeller Jr. Heads List in Manhattan Revenue District

New York, Oct. 24.—"Big business" is by no means the only source of yearly incomes which bring their recipients to the revenue offices annually with thousands upon thousands in taxes, perusal of the published lists of taxpayers in the Second and Third Internal Revenue Districts reveals. The arts—painters, writers and actors in the main—book and newspaper publishers, lecturers, prizefighters, lawyers and auctioneers vie with bankers, railroad builders, merchant princes, brokers and mine owners in income taxes that run into thousands.

The young Rockefeller, John D. Jr., heads the list in the amount of 1923 income tax paid. The sum total poured into Uncle Sam's coffers stands at the head of the column like a beacon light. The elder John D. Rockefeller paid a far less sum than his son.

There follows a glittering array of names, compiled into what might be termed the United States blue book of the gilded ones, for the Second and Third Districts, comprising all of rich Manhattan, has more big money makers than any similar area in the world.

PLAN TO RUN SHUTTLE SERVICE

Temporary Accommodation For Five Months is Proposed on Portion of Interurban

That there will be a car operated on the Saanich interurban line from Harriet to Eberts from November 1 to March 31, is understood to be the solution of the problem of transportation for the isolated residents between Wilkinson and Eberts, who would be unable to use the stage services which have been in operation, and which will be running in extended numbers when the interurban line suspends operation on Friday.

The question will be raised in the Saanich Council this evening as a consequence of the report of the committee named by the council to endeavor to secure a stage driver who would adapt his car to run on the B.C. Electric tracks. As far as is known no success has attended that offer.

The car service to be operated will be hourly, it is understood, and will be run in conjunction with the regular service of the company on it city lines.

PRINCE OF WALES TO-DAY IN NEW YORK

Is to Sail For Home To-night After His Canadian-U.S. Visit

Lowel, Mass., Oct. 24.—The Prince of Wales, after a day of hunting and dancing last night at Hamilton, left here at 9.15 o'clock to-day on a special train for New York. There were no engagements of any kind set for the Prince in New York, it was said. He planned to go direct to the steamship Olympic, in which he will sail for home.

The Prince reserved formal expression of his appreciation of American hospitality since he came to this country in August for a statement to be issued in New York to-night. Members of his party said, however, that he was greatly pleased with his reception and entertainment in the United States.

A plan to visit South Africa will occupy the Prince next year, it was said, but he has indicated that he hopes to come to the United States again in 1926, this time on the more serious mission of inquiring into manufacturing methods.

Dr. George L. Milne of Victoria has received intimation of the death of his brother, W. A. Milne, who was accidentally killed at Port Arthur, Ont., on Thursday, Oct. 16. The late Mr. Milne was supervisor at the Canadian National coal dock at the Eastern city, and while on duty fell from a high trestle, sustaining injuries from which he died a few hours later.

The late Mr. Milne was born in Scotland seventy-two years ago and had been a prominent citizen of Port Arthur for twenty years. His death marked the second break in the family within a month, his daughter, Helena, predeceasing him on September 16. A son, Capt. Clarence Milne, was killed overseas during the war.

Mr. Milne is survived by his widow and three daughters and a son, a sister in Port Arthur, and two brothers, Dr. George L. Milne, medical officer of the Immigration Department of Victoria, and Robert Milne of Los Angeles.

PETER SMITH CASE IS GIVEN TO JURY

Verdict in Ontario Bond Case Tried in Toronto Will Soon Be Known

Judge Closely Sifted Evidence in Delivering His Charge This Forenoon

Toronto, Oct. 24.—The jury in the assizes in the trial of Peter Smith, former Provincial Treasurer of Ontario Aemilius Jarvis Sr., Aemilius Jarvis Jr. and Harry Pepall, charged with conspiracy to defraud the province, went out at 12.15 after Chief Justice Meredith and W. N. Tilley, K.C., crown prosecutor, had taken the morning in reviewing the case.

The chief justice said the charge, simplified, was that the four men had endeavored to cheat the province. He asked what the elder Jarvis had done that he should get such a large sum of money. He had risked none of his own money in buying the bonds in Great Britain, and the bankers there had done the real work.

MADE A COMPARISON

The banks for doing the work had received three-eights of one per per cent., while Jarvis had got eight per cent.

"If he made that money honestly, then all we can do is to blame the Government for being foolish," said the judge. "Do you think any real business men would entertain a proposal of that kind?"

He asked, if the money were made honestly, why the securities in payment of the Jarvis services had not been sent to Toronto instead of New York. He told the jury that it must be satisfied that Peter Smith got the securities or part of them.

"If he did not get them, Andrew Pepall could prove it, but Smith has not the benefit of Andrew Pepall's evidence," he said. "If he received the bonds from some one else, why has he not brought that some one else here to say so?"

SPOKE PLAINLY

Mr. Tilley said Peter Smith had gone to the Government "with a lie on his lips and deceit in his heart," and that he had been a stool pigeon and had put over the transaction with the elder Jarvis as two rogues would. The elder Jarvis, he said, was responsible for the whole deal. The younger Jarvis, if he were not in the original plot, he continued, knew of it later. Peter Smith, he said, had taken advantage of his position and that of a reputable broker to involve the province in a loss of $520,000 in order to put one-third of the amount in his own pocket.

MAGISTRATE URGES RESTRAINT OF FACTIONAL FRICTION

Chinese War Differences Should Not Have Influence Here

Victoria's Chinatown Quiet Except For Exchange of Words

"We all very much regret that there is trouble in China, and no doubt it is only natural that there should be high feeling among the Chinese on the point; but you must not bring your differences across the water. You must learn to restrain your temper while on Canadian soil," said Magistrate Jay in City Police Court this morning when summing up in the Chinese assault case. Chon Kee, charged by Harry Hing Foo with assault and battery, was fined $100. Harry Hing Foo, counter-charged by Kee, was acquitted.

In summing up the court remarked that the evidence of Kee and his companions as to the assault by Foo could not be credited. He did not believe, however, that Kee had any weapon in his hand when he struck Foo. The sentence therefore would be a fine, and not imprisonment which otherwise would have been the case.

According to W. C. Moresby, counsel for Foo, and Frank Higgins, K.C., counsel for Kee, the affair was over factional feeling engendered by war news from China.

Yesterday Chin Hop, a Chinaman walking the streets of Vancouver's Chinatown, was set uopn by a fellow countryman armed witha a meat cleaver. Chin Hop was cut about the face, head, arms and legs, in an assault which occurred, it is alleged, in plain sight of hundreds of Chinese then on the street and who made no effort to interfere. Chin Hop, bleeding profusely was picked up and rushed to hospital. He may recover, it is thought.

With the exception of the single police court case friction in Victoria's Chinatown has been confined to some sharp words between rival factions. No gun play, no hatchet assaults, nor other elements have been introduced to disturb the peace.

The posting of bulletins by rival factions of China's war-front news takes place daily. The bulletins are read and discussed by crowds on the street, but so far the resident Chinese population has maintained an orderly forbearance under the circumstances.

Local police authorities do not anticipate any tong outbreaks such as have been frequent in other centres within the past ten days, and trust to the good sense of the Chinese themselves to refrain from open conflict such as is now reported to be terrifying the Chinatowns of Chicago and New York.

COURT OF REVISION RESUMES SESSION

Chinese Laundry as Detriment to Residential Property

To judge by the assessment problem before the civic Court of Revision, which resumed its sessions this morning, the city officials are in the same quandary as other municipal officers throughout British Columbia, as to the correct value of assessing land and improvements. Clarifying the section of the Municipal Act would simplify this serious problem, which cropped up several times at the meeting to-day.

An issue which would require a volume to explain was voiced when arguments arose whether a low tax rate and high assessment was better than a low assessment and a high tax rate.

Some of the aldermen who composed the court were prepared to argue the matter, but Alderman Todd, chairman of the court, pointed out that the revenue had to be raised, and everyone must agree that substantial reduction in all classes of assessments had been made recently.

In several cases the court promised an inspection by an independent valuator, where the assessments of the assessor's department was challenged.

A pertinent question was asked by George McCandless, a former alderman, when he complained about his residence on Queen's Avenue being depreciated by a Chinese laundry in the neighborhood. He stated that the proximity of the premises had reduced the value for residential purposes about 50 per cent.

The court decided to view the location personally.

J. D. Kissinger appeared on behalf of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber and Timber Company, to protest the assessment on the company's plant at Rock Bay.

City Assessor Scowcroft stated that he had offered a voluntary cut of ten per cent., which had not been accepted.

The appellant was offered a choice between a voluntary cut on improvements, or inspection by an independent valuator. He chose the former, and a 15 per cent. cut on improvements was ordered, while land values will stand.

The court was occupied for a considerable time with protests of owners of high class residential property, which is feeling the 50 per cent. assessment of improvements rather severely.

The annual meeting of the Victoria British-Israel Association will take place on Tuesday evening next, October 28, at 8 o'clock, at the hall, 1519 Cook Street. The usual programme will be followed with election of officers and reading of the financial statement.

CITY INQUIRY IS HELD IN SEATTLE

Purchase of Street Railway System by Municipality Investigated

Testimony Given by Mayor; Five Labor Leaders Called to Give Evidence

Seattle, Oct. 24.—The investigation of the "efficiency" of the municipal government of Seattle was continued to-day by a committee of the City Council.

LABOR LEADERS CALLED

Subpoenas were issued by Chairman Nichols for the appearance before the committee of five labor leaders, William M. Short, of this city, president of the Washington State Federation of Labor, and four Seattle labor leaders.

Chairman Nichols said he understood the labor men protested against the appointment of H. Bolton as Civil Service Commissioner on the ground that Bolton was too sympathetic with the Puget Sound Power and Light Company, the Stone & Webster concern from which the city purchased the street railway system.

MAYOR'S STATEMENT

Mayor Edwin J. Brown, who testified yesterday that it was not profit, but a desire to be Governor of Washington or United States Senator that caused him to seek to rescind a $15,000,000 street car contract, later related on the stand that he had showed evidence obtained to upset the contract to R. T. Whiting, an investigator for a concern subsidiary to Stone and Webster of Boston, hoping Whiting would certify the document. The contract is with this concern.

The Mayor said on the stand before a committee of the city council investigating the "efficiency" of the municipal government, that though he considered Whiting a power company representative, he knew if the document was not verified, it would be no good. He admitted he had consulted an attorney in New York on the case, but declared the man's name was "the people's business," and he would not tell it. He said he did not believe the company had knowledge of the city's case, and added that he was working at present on some lines that neither Whiting nor Ralph Nichols, chairman of the committee, knew anything about.

WILLING TO TESTIFY

"Whiting told me he would be willing to lose his job if these facts I had were proven, and he would testify if asked to tell the truth," the Mayor related.

"I told Whiting that if T. Harry Bolton, E. B. Minich and he would tell all they knew about the railway contract, it could be broken, and he would not lose financially.

"I am not convinced that Bolton, former Councilman, had any part in an alleged bribery. If anyone does wrong, I do not believe in hitting him on the head, but rather in the Christian method of asking him to confess in open court—and at once."

SERVICE DEMANDS

Robert B. Hesket, a member of the committee who was a member of the City Council when the street car system was purchased from Stone and Webster, said that at the time the purchase was made the United States Government was demanding more adequate street car service, newspapers were urging the municipality to take over the property, and the voters by more than a three to one vote demanded it.

CONSIDERATION FOR BUTCHART ROAD PROMISED

Delegates from the Victoria branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia waited upon Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, to-day, to discuss with him the possibility of hard-surfacing the road to the Butchart Gardens. Dr. Sutherland promised to consider the matter carefully and said he would discuss it with the Cabinet. It was suggested at the conference that Victoria and Saanich Councils, both being interested in the tourist travel to and from the gardens, might contribute to the cost of the proposed work.

The Automobile Club's delegation consisted of Colonel A. W. R. Wilby, president of the Victoria branch, A. M. Aitken, Norman Yarrow, J. A. Hibberson, and R. W. Webb, secretary.

Wards Must Win Or New Leaders Will Spring Up

If Northerners Lose Anyone of Three Teams Can Take Premier Position

Wards Meet Vets, Wests Play Esquimalt and U.S. Tackle S.O.E. To-morrow

League Standing

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Pct.
North Wards	3	1	0	2	4
Victoria Wests	3	1	1	1	3
Veterans	3	1	1	1	3
Esquimalt	2	1	0	1	3
United Services	2	1	1	0	2
Sons of England	3	0	2	1	1

A fine programme of soccer will be dished up for the fans in the First Division to-morrow. With the Wards now leading the league and three teams tied for second place it is expected the games will be bitterly contested. The programme of matches is as follows:

Veterans vs. North Wards, at the Royal Athletic Park. Referee, P. Payne.

Wests vs. Esquimalt at Beacon Hill. Referee, Saunders.

United Services vs. Sons of England, at Work Point. Referee, Brigden.

All games will start at 3 o'clock.

At the Royal Athletic Park the Wards will battle to retain their lead in the race for the city honors, while the Veterans, one of the three teams tied for second place, will attempt to take the scalps of the league leaders and jump into first place. Both will have out their strongest teams and it is expected a large crowd will be on hand to witness what should prove to be a gruelling struggle.

The Wests will take on Esquimalt for the first time this year at Beacon Hill. These two elevens are also tied for second berth and the greenshirts, who scored a fine win last week over the United Services, expect to chalk up another victory and remain near the top of the league. The dockyarders, who have yet to taste defeat, will be out to trounce their old rivals. Esquimalt occupied the premier position until the withdrawal of the Moose, when they lost two points and dropped to second place.

Another close game should be seen at the Work Point grounds, when the Sons of England and the United Services clash, with both teams fighting to keep out of the cellar position. The Services received a mauling at the hands of the Wests last week, while the Sons were beaten by the Wards, so both teams will be out to get back into the league race.

The teams are:

Esquimalt—Nicoll; Watt and Rickenson; Hosmer, Mesher and De Costa; Edwards, J. Watt, Watt II., McColl and Bendall. Reserves, Simpson and Bennett.

Veterans—Bridges, Campbell, C. Owens, J. Roe, Small, Davidson, Kelman, Preston, Petch, Merfield, Clarkson; reserves, Carmichael, Wright and Kennedy. All players are asked to meet at Veterans of France rooms at 2.15.

North Wards—Cummins, Bell, Taylor, Wale, Brynjolfson, Kroeger, Cummins, McKinnon, Dowds, Motion and Cummins. Players to meet at the Metropolis Billiard Parlors at 2.30 p.m.

Sons of England—Carr Hilton, Church, Tuckwell, Reg. Shanks, Harwood, Swan, Connorton, Phillips, W. Smith, Richardson, Shanks. Spares—Newman, Hill.

Victoria Wests—Shandley, Copas, Baker, Thomas, Popham, Sherrat, Mulcahy, Peden, Muir and Waddington.

Vancouver, Oct. 24.—President Jim Haslett, Secretary J. L. Armstrong and three Mainland members of the B. C. Football Council attended this week's meeting of the B. C. Junior Football Association, but were politely asked to leave when the vexed question of relations between seniors and juniors was under discussion. The visitors were permitted to remain during the early deliberations of the juniors, but as soon as the question in which they were vitally interested arose, that of alleged player poaching by the seniors, they were asked to withdraw.

Mainland—South Hill vs. Canco, Army and Navy vs. St. Marys, Dundas vs. O'Neills, Sapperton vs. St. Lukes Varsity, Cedar Cottage, Victoria Road, St. Pauls, Excelsiors, St. Johns, Navy, Lynn Valley, West End, C.P.R. Shops, Manchester Unity, Vulcan, byes.

Lower Island—Duncan vs. Ladysmith, Davenports vs. Oaklands, South End vs. Saanich, Park Rangers a bye.

Frank Chance Left Estate Worth Over Quarter Million

Los Angeles, Oct. 24. — Frank Chance, late leader of the Chicago White Sox baseball team, who died here several weeks ago, left an estate valued at between $250,000 and $300,000, according to Karl Pancake, brother-in-law of the former baseball star.

While the amount involved in Chance's will, filed for probate a few days ago, was around $30,000, he had transferred real estate and other items amounting to about $250,000 to Mrs. Chance previous to his death.

New York, Oct. 24.—Albert C. Cutler still was national junior balkline billiard champion at the conclusion of his 1,200-point match with Ary Bos, champion of Holland, last night. Cutler won, 1,200 to 1,115. The result was in doubt almost to the end of the match. Bos captured the last block, which went twenty-six innings, 521 to 400.

Edmonton Girls Win Fortieth Straight Game; Retain Title

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 24.—By a score of 39 to 8, the Commercial Graduates' ladies' basketball team of this city defeated the Chicago All-Stars last night in the second game of a two-game series for the international basketball championship.

The Grads won the first game, played Tuesday night, by the score of 26 to 13. They therefore wind the round by 65 to 21 and retain the laurels which they have held since June of 1923. This game was the fortieth consecutive victory chalked up by the world's champions.

Rain Puts Ground In Fine Condition For Rugby Matches

Bumps Should Not Hurt Ruggers so Much To-morrow as Turf is Little Softer

Two Senior, Three Intermediate and One School Game Are on Schedule

Last night's rain made the ruggers feel good, even if the folks who got caught in the downpour did not enjoy it. The rain has softened up the turf and has put the playing fields in splendid shape for the rugby games to-morrow afternoon. There will be less danger for the players, who have suffered some bad knocks during the past two games as a result of the hard ground.

Two seniors, three intermediate and one school game are scheduled for to-morrow afternoon, providing a splendid programme for the fans to pick from.

There should be better attendance at the games. When the fine weather was on it did not seem time for rugby, and the fans participated in golf and other sports. But with the advent of real rugby weather the crowds should increase.

THE PROGRAMME

The rugby card for to-morrow is as follows:

Wanderers vs. Tillicums at the Willows. Referee, Russell Ker.

J.B.A.A. vs. United Services at Oak Bay Park. Referee, W. Tomalin.

INTERMEDIATE

United Services vs. Normal School, at Cranmore Road, commencing at 2 o'clock. Referee, C. Stewart.

Wanderers vs. Victoria College at Cranmore Road, commencing at 3.30 o'clock. Referee, Gordon Campbell.

Brentwood vs. J.B.A.A. at Brentwood.

SCHOOL GAME

Oaklands vs. Boys' Central at Oak Bay, starting at 2 o'clock.

The senior games should prove extremely close.

A KEEN STRUGGLE

The Oak Bay Wanderers, who lead the league by a point over the Tillicums and J.B.A.A., will have a struggle on their hands when they meet the Tillicums. The Wanderers have yet to be defeated this season, but they had a scare thrown into them last week, when the Services held them to a draw. The Tillicums are mustering a strong fifteen, with the hope that they will gain the honor of lowering the colors of the redoubtable Wanderers. They may succeed in doing it, but they are assured of a titanic struggle before it is accomplished. The Wanderers have announced a splendid line-up, and if the fifteen men are on the job on time the Tillicums will have to jump fast and often.

The Bays will find worthy opponents in the Services. Last week the Services came through with a draw with the Wanderers, after having fallen victims to the Tillicums the previous week. The Bays just stand one point above the Services in the standings and are anxious to win to-morrow in order to keep in touch with the leaders in the race.

LEADERS CLASHING

The Intermediate League has three good games on the card, and the fixture at Brentwood between the school team and the J.B.A.A. should prove exceedingly close. The Oak Bay Wanderers, who have yet to taste defeat, will have the Victoria College as their opponents, while the Normal School and United Services, the two tail-end teams, which have yet to win a game, will meet in a fixture which will determine the real cellar occupants.

The school rugby teams will also get into action to-morrow and they will play at Oak Bay prior to the senior game scheduled for that place. Oaklands will oppose the Boys' Central and a good game should result.

THE TEAMS:

Some of the teams for to-morrow are as follows:

SENIOR

J.B.A.A.—Boss Johnson; McMillan, Totty, McInnes, Bendrodt; Goodacre, McLean; Miller, J. Johnson, Brynjolfson, Watson, Mawhood, Porteous, Bond and Smith; reserve, Peden.

Oak Bay Wanderers—Gilmer; Randall, Adams, Shaw, Hart; Parker, Robertson; Christy, McLean, Colpman, Wootton, Wilson, Allan, Money, Pemberton and Hardie.

INTERMEDIATES

Oak Bay Wanderers—Goodacre; Grubb, Oliver, Smith, Adamson; R. Wenman, Miller; Crease, Officer, Beck (captain), Dunn, Forbes, G. Wenman, Harman and Hicks.

J.B.A.A.—McLachlan; Walls, Dawson, Kenny, Brooker; O'Neil, Clarke; Raybone, Buller, Askey, Ryan, Underwood, Locke, Cruickshank; spare, Allen. Players are requested to be on hand at the J.B.A.A. at 2 o'clock.

SCHOOL

Boys' Central—Jacklin; Ruch, Barbour, Farnes, Williamson; Short, Gaunt; Jarvie, Proby, Wilson, Burwood, Littlefield, Mathewson, Berry and Ward; spare, Davis.

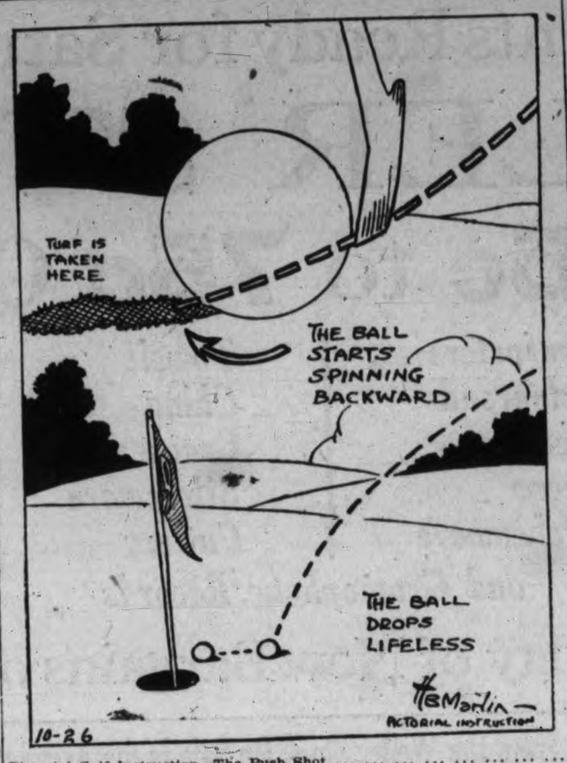
Oaklands—Davis; Chapman, Blackstock, Bosenee, Cockin; Hansen, Miller; White, Hopkins, Jones, Revercombe, Kinsman, Anderton, Jackson and Smith.

It took Bobby Jones eight years to win the amateur golf title. . . . It will probably take him eight more to outgrow the "boy wonder" title.

Pictorial Golf Instruction

By H. B. MARTIN

THE PUSH SHOT



Pictorial Golf Instruction—The Push Shot

The push shot was a fad ten years ago and it was a great mystery at that time also. Only experts dared to try it and as a result the golfing public fought shy of it.

The push shot is made with the club hitting the ball a descending blow figuratively speaking, pushing the ball into the ground. The ball arises as a bird flies, attaining a certain height and then dropping quite suddenly at the end or when it has spent its force. There is a little roll to the ball after it drops but not enough to cause any trouble.

The club takes the ball while it is on the downward swing continuing on through the ball, so to speak, and taking a divot or at least scrapping the ground in front of the ball, not behind it. The weight is nearly all on the left foot when this shot is executed. It is the proper management of the weight that makes or mars this shot.

Most professionals play on the push shot but it has become such a part of their game that its name means little in golf any more.

Boys of Foul Bay Enter Sport Arena In Earnest Manner

Athletic Association Formed to Enter All Fields of Activity

Forty-eight boys of the district have joined and paid their first membership fees, residents of the district have subscribed $85 in a few days' canvass made by the lads, and the Foul Bay Athletic Association has been successful launched.

Percy Payne, football and cricket official of the city leagues and ardent sportsman, who recently went to reside in the Foul Bay district, is responsible for the organization of the boys' club and has been named president. He also takes charge of the finance for the boys and acts as general guide, counsellor and friend. One of the boys, Victor Pitzer, has been named secretary.

Two football clubs have been organized of lads between ten and sixteen years of age and they have entered the Juvenile League which opens in two weeks. In the meantime the soccer players of the club fight Saturday for position in the A and B teams. Nightly practises are held for the football players but hockey, baseball, track and field events and other lines of sport are contemplated for the future. A social evening every Monday is held at the residence of Mr. Payne.

Thanks are expressed by the president for the generous support the residents of Foul Bay district have given to the new association.

Six-day Bicycle Riders to Usher In Great Season

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Fourteen teams of professional bicycle riders in a two-hour race, sixteen teams of amateurs in a one-hour team race, and forty-eight amateurs in a one-half mile handicap will usher in the international six-day bicycle race at the Coliseum to-morrow night.

The twenty-eight professionals entered in the six-day event began training yesterday.

Giants Swing on White Sox Winning Battle in London

London, Oct. 24.—The New York Giants defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in the second game to-day of the series the two American baseball teams are playing on their European tour.

White Sox Defeat Giants in Opening Game in England

Liverpool, Oct. 24.—A crowd of more than 2,500 yesterday witnessed the opening European exhibition game between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants. The Sox won, 16 to 11.

This is the way a British press agency described the game:

"Many who had not previously witnessed a ball game were astounded by the prodigious hitting of the American batsmen, the ball frequently falling into the stands. The play was exceeding fast, but the smart fielding of the Chicago side was the downfall of the New Yorkers. The latter held the lead until the sixth inning, but the Sox gathered four runs in the sixth, to lead by 7 to 6. The seventh inning gave the Sox the most commanding lead of 16 runs to 7, but they failed to increase this in the following two innings, when the Giants put on four additional runs, to be beaten by five runs. Mostil, of the Sox, playing at left field, made some wonderful catches in the outfield. On one occasion he had to lean over the barrier in an attempt to hold the ball.

"Ruel was the outstanding batsman. He often drove the ball among the spectators in the stands. Kamm, at right field, also played a fine game, while Robertson was the best of the pitchers.

Cricketers Hold Annual Gathering In C of C To-night

A general meeting of the Victoria and District Association will be held this evening at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Arcade Block, at 8 o'clock sharp. The silver cups will be presented to the winning teams in the past Summer's competition.

As very important matters will be discussed, all players and friends of cricket are invited to be present.

OLD COUNTRY RUGBY

London, Oct. 24 (Canadian Press Cable)—Results of football games played in the Old Country to-day were:

Rugby Union

Cardiff 15, St. Bartholomew's Hospital 0.

Bargood 7, Pontypridd 28.

Coventry 6, Northampton 10.

County Championships

Surrey 47, Eastern Counties 3. (Played at Norwich).

STOPPED HIM EARLY

Tacoma, Oct. 24.—Eddie Roberts, Tacoma welter, stopped Ted Krache of Hoquiam, in the first round of a scheduled six-round bout here last night. Roberts sent Grache to the floor three times for nine counts in the first round, and as Krache went down the fourth time his seconds threw in the towel just as the bell rang.

Rule On Injured Soccer Players Is Unusual One

Spectators Are Asked to Digest it; Referees Are Given a Difficult Job

Members of the Victoria Football Referees' Association have asked that publicity be given a new rule which has been put into effect this year by the English Football Association, the rules of which govern play in Canada.

The rule is as follows: "If in the opinion of the referee a player has been seriously injured the game shal be stopped, the player at once removed from the field of play, and the game resumed. If a player is slightly injured the game shall not be stopped until the ball has ceased to be in play."

UP TO THE REFEREE

This rule will no doubt create considerable discussion as so much is left to the discretion of the referee. If a man is winded for instance, he will be looked upon as only slightly injured and play will be allowed to go on even if in the goal mouth of the team which has lost one of its players.

It is an unusual rule and has already caused considerable discontent in the Old Country. The spectators are so partial that the minute a man on the side they are backing is hurt they want the game stopped, but if the injured man is on the other they see no reason for a halt.

Landis and Dolan Almost Resort to Blows at Hearing

Suspended Coach of New York Giants Tells His Side of Scandal Story

New York, Oct. 24.—"Cozy" Dolan took another step yesterday in his fight to clear himself of charges that he was implicated with Jimmy O'Connell in the attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, Philadelphia shortstop.

In the office of his counsel, W. J. Fallon, who intends to bring suit against Commissioner Landis and organized baseball, Dolan re-enacted the scene of the examination by Landis and related his version of the conversation which took place at the hearing which resulted in his banishment.

The former "Giant" coach reiterated his denial of any knowledge of the alleged bribery deal and reasserted his innocence of any wrongdoing. Dolan also disclosed that his final hearing before Landis almost ended in blows when he became involved in a heated verbal exchange with the commissioner.

HE TOLD HIM

"Landis rushed across the room, pointed a finger at me and exclaimed, 'Dolan, you are guilty,'" the former coach declared.

"'I am not guilty; I don't remember anything about it,'" Dolan said he replied.

"We stood facing each other, and Landis apparently interpreted my attitude as threatening him, and he said:

"'If you came here looking for a fight, get out.'"

After Dolan had been questioned for an hour by a score of newspaper men, Fallon declared he would press his legal effort to clear Dolan, restore him to good standing in baseball and obtain for him his share of the world's series money. He said he expected to file papers within three or four days.

"If Commissioner Landis were fair and wanted to give this man a fair trial he would give to the press a stenographic copy of O'Connell's confession and Dolan's testimony," sain Fallon.

LACK OF FAITH

"It seems to me then Commissioner Landis can't place much faith in O'Connel's confession when he convicted Dolan and exonerated Frisch, Young and Kelly, all of whom were mentioned by the outfielder as being implicated in the alleged bribe.

"It appears that Landis's decision in Dolan's case was based purely on the indefiniteness of Dolan's answers to his questions and O'Connell's charges. Landis, I am convinced, misinterpreted Dolan's statements that he 'didn't remember.' I think Dolan has made it clear that by this he meant he knew nothing about the bribery at all, and used this term of expression as an absolute denial instead of a hazy memory as Landis evidently interpreted it."

Clubs In World's Series Had Very Marked Weaknesses

Pitching Was Very Erratic; Washington Took Most Chances on Bases

By BILLY EVANS

Washington, Oct. 24.—It will be a long time before there is another world series like the 1924 event.

The clash between the New York Giants and the Washington Nationals offered every variety of baseball.

The first two games played at Washington were brilliant affairs. Each game was filled with tense situations. The result was always in doubt. Then came three ordinary games, followed by two more thrillers.

Real drama was offered in the first game in the defeat of Walter Johnson. After waiting eighteen years to get into a world series he went down to defeat after twelve innings of hard fighting.

Johnson struck out twelve men. Two home runs into the temporary stands, that would have been outs on the regular field, kept him from scoring a shutout.

The world was pulling for the popular Johnson to win and he lost. That was the opening surprise in a series filled with thrillers.

Washington's pitching ace had been beaten. It seemed that Johnson must win one, possibly two games, if his club was to have a chance.

Southpaw Zachary pitched the second game. During the last month of the American League race, he gave every evidence of being pitched out.

'YOLANDA' AT CAPITOL RECEIVING MARKED ATTENTION BY FANS

Among those who have expressed themselves upon the brilliant success of "Yolanda," Marion Davies' latest picture now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, are Sidney Olcott, motion picture director, who directed Miss Davies in "Little Old New York," and Cecell Arden, Metropolitan Opera star.

Mr. Olcott, in a letter addressed to the Cosmopolitan studio, says: "I want you to know that I think 'Yolanda' a beautiful picture and ably directed by Mr. Vignola. Miss Davies is also to be heartily congratulated upon her charmingly artistic performance in the title role."

Miss Arden, after attending a performance of the picture declared: "I do not know when I have seen a more artistic production than 'Yolanda,' and Miss Davies seems to have just the right deftness of touch to bring out the beauty and charm of the maid, but always with a feeling that behind it all lay a great spirit. I think the entire 'Yolanda' production is wonderful."

"Yolanda" was directed by Robert G. Vignola, and adapted by Luther Reed from Charles Major's story of the same name.

HAROLD LLOYD FILM "GIRL SHY" RETURNS TO THE COLUMBIA

Harold Lloyd's latest Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy," opened yesterday at the Columbia Theatre for a run of three days. Here is a picture that may be recommended to anyone.

Lloyd is seen as a small town tailor's apprentice, who, bashful to an extreme degree, is trying to make a secret study of girls. And the more he studies them, the more he fears them. He makes the part one calculated to win the sympathies of any audience at the outset.

Besides being one long laugh, "Girl Shy" has the added merit of possessing a really dramatic story as its background. The supporting cast, a small but entirely capable one, includes Jobyna Ralston as the feminine lead, Richard Daniels and Carlton Griffin. Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor co-directed from a story by Taylor, Ted Wilde, Tim Whelan and Tommy Gray.

HILDA BAILEY PLAYS LEADING "CARNIVAL" ROLE

Hilda Bailey, one of the best known of the younger English actresses in London, is seen in the leading role of the vivacious little wife in Harley Knoles's elaborate film production, "Carnival," recently released by United Artists and which is the feature at the Playhouse Theatre this week.

Miss Bailey is another of the English stage stars who for a long time did not take motion pictures seriously.

She declined repeated offers to play in the silent drama, preferring to confine her activities to the speaking stage.

By hard work and sheer ability she won a high place in the spoken drama and saw no reason why she should risk her hard-won laurels in a new field.

Then came the opportunity to play the part of "Simonetta" in the screen version of "Carnival," a part which she had created on the stage with Matheson Lang, and the possibilities which it offered proved too promising to resist. Nevertheless, it is said, she still had qualms of doubt as to whether the move was advisable, until the picture was finished.

When Miss Bailey had seen herself on the screen, however, had read the criticisms of the press, there was no longer any doubt in her mind that there was a big place for her in motion pictures.

MOVIE ACTOR FINDS SAND AIDS IN MAKE-UP FOR FILM WORK

Jack Curtis, who plays Wolverstone, the rough lieutenant for "Captain Blood," in Rafael Sabatini's famous novel of the same name which will be shown at Dominion Theatre on Monday, gives a few tips on the art of make-up. According to Curtis he has discovered an absolutely new and original make-up which he is using for the first time in "Captain Blood."

Owing to the convenience of materials and easy method of applying Mr. Curtis thinks that the method should prove popular.

The directions are simple, and may be tried by any young girl who lives near a sand pile. After applying a liberal coat of flesh paint to the face, go to the nearest sand pile and throw handsful of sand upon the face. The effect is unique.

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

"Hunting Big Game in Africa," at the Coliseum Theatre, fascinating from the opening shots of over a million penguins filing into the ocean, and whale hunters shooting harpoons into huge whales, to the close-up of a giant African elephant charging into the camera.

There is action in every foot of the picture. A wealth of material has enabled Mr. Snow to be more than generous, and when not marveling at the astonishing animal shots one sits entranced by the picture.

There is comedy; the antics of a herd of giraffes provides a hearty laugh, human interest; the native trackers at work, drama; buzzards feasting from stricken oxen, charging rhinoceri, slinking lions, a deadly puff adder in camp, the stampede of a herd of maddened elephants.

Working under conditions that would discourage the most experienced photographers, Sidney Snow has secured some beautiful pictures. Working with a twelve-inch lens, young Snow has been able to film animals miles off or achieve startling close-ups of unsuspecting beasts.

If an Indian fakir gave you a wonderful charm by which you could attain your dearest wishes, what would you ask for?

A terrific situation is developed at the Playhouse, week commencing October 27, when parental love is tried to its utmost through the weird agency of the "Monkey's Paw."

"SINGLE WIVES" TO BE SHOWN AT CAPITOL MONDAY

Very often the biggest thrill in a motion picture is a simple incident, yet so dramatic and impelling that it is the one feature in the play that patrons remember long after they have forgotten the title of the picture.

Such an incident occurs in "Single Wives," the First National picture which is to open Monday at the Capitol Theatre. The incident does not depend upon big mob action for its thrills—in fact, there are but three characters in the situation. But the acting of those three when a daughter, brought up to love and respect her mother, finds her unfaithful to her marriage vows, is as effective dramatically as any motion picture situation in which hundreds of players appear.

"Single Wives" co-features Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills. Others in the all-star cast are Lou Tellegen, Kathyln Williams, Henry B. Walthall, Phyllis Haver, Phillips Smalley, Jere Austin and John Patrick.

DANTE'S "INFERNO" IS MASTERPIECE OF THE FILM WORLD

The scenic backgrounds and atmosphere for many of the sets in the William Fox production "Dante's Inferno," which comes to the Coliseum Theatre next week, were inspired by the weird, highly imaginative illustrations of the poem made by Dore. So celebrated are the drawings that the most popular edition of "Inferno" and the other two allegories which compose Dante's "Divine Comedy" are known as the Dore edition, and copies are much sought after.

Since the motion picture based on this great allegory has been running throughout the country, much interest has been revived concerning the artist who so ably created the drawings for this deathless piece of literature.

Louis Auguste Gustave Dore was born in Strasbourg, January 6, 1832, the son of a civil engineer. At the age of sixteen he went to Paris and obtained a three-year engagement with the Journal pour rire. His ability as a draughtsman was extraordinary and in quick succession he made illustrations for Balzac's Contes drolatiques (1855), Dante's Inferno (1861), Don Quixote (1863), The Bible (1866), Paradise Lost (1866) and the works of Rabelais (1873). He has painted many large and ambitious compositions of a religious or historical character. He attained some success as a sculptor, his statue of Alexandre Dumas in Paris being perhaps his best known work in this line. He died January 25, 1883.

The Fox picture is said to adhere very closely to the text of the poem where scenes in Inferno are shown. The spectacular effects of fire and smoke represent the combined work of Director Henry Otto and his staff as well as a large corps of expert chemists and pyrotechnicians.

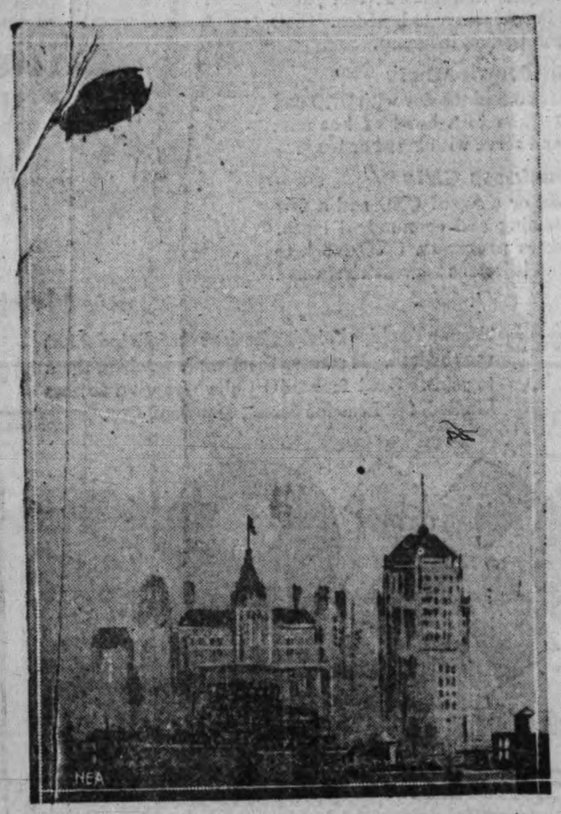
First Pictures of Arrival of ZR-3 in America, After Crossing the Atlantic From Germany

As the ZR-3 nestled down to earth at Lakehurst, Bob Dorman, Nea Service photographer in an aeroplane, piloted by Jim Ray, one of the best known aviators, circled above the field. This remarkable airview resulted.

This exceptionally fine photograph of the ZR-3 as it was being nosed into its hangar at Lakehurst, N.J., was taken by M. J. Ackerman, staff photographer. The act of housing the great Leviathan of the air was the last act in the thrilling adventure which brought the ZR-3 from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to America in a journey that broke all records for lighter-than-air craft, and which was marked by many thrilling experiences. The ZR-3 will be taken over by the U.S. Navy as a war reparations payment by the German government.

Captain George W. Steele, Jr., American commander of the ZR-3, is shown above being greeted by his wife when the giant aircraft landed at Lakehurst, N.J. Below is shown a family reunion with his wife tucked under one arm and his mother under the other—it was a proud moment in the lives of these two women.

Here is close-up of the main cabin of the ZR-3 as it came to earth at Lakehurst after its flight from Friendrichshafen. Members of the German crew and American officers who made the trip are seen looking out the windows of the cabin, happy and exulting in the successful end of their transatlantic flight. The arrow indicates Captain Lehman, who was chief of operations for the American staff aboard the airliner.



High above Times Square, New York City, "the cross-roads of the world," the ZR-3 proudly floated, looking like a great silver whale as it gently glided up out of the fog and thrilled the hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers who stopped in their mad rush to work to acclaim the notable achievement of the great airship and its crew.

Dr. Cora J. Best, well known member of the Alpine Club of Canada and Miss Audrey Forfar Shippam, the first women to crown Mount Hungabee, near Lake Louise. This is considered one of the most difficult ascents in the Canadian Rockies.

The ZR-3 photographed by Arthur Galaid in an aeroplane, piloted by Casey Jones, as the great ship of the air came over the sea and crossed Long Beach, Long Island. Soon after this picture was taken, the ZR-3 plunged into a giant bank of fog that enveloped New York City.

FORD'S NURSE—Henry Ford has befriended his childhood nurse in her old age. He has kept her out of the almshouse. The nurse, Mrs. Minnie Methal, seventy, suffered a fractured hip in a fall. She had to give up her work. Ford heard about it and sent his car to bring her to his own hospital. She can stay there the rest of her days.

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

COOLIDGE'S TAX REDUCTION PLEA MOVES STOCKS UP

New York, Oct. 24 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—The stock market displayed a rather buoyant tone in practically all departments, and special strength was observable in some of the so-called market leaders. The various items in the day's news budget were constructive in interpretation. The Federal Reserve Bank statement attracted more than usual attention, showing, as it did, an unusual rise in the reserve ratio. The remarks of Judge Gary and also of the chairman of the Republic Iron and Steel Corporation touching on the status of the steel industry, were very encouraging, and this was doubtless responsible for the increased inquiry for U.S. Steel and other shares in the steel group. Copper metal at 13⅝ cents was a helpful factor in connection with the red metal shares. The rail department also gave a good account of itself, and many of the standard shares were in active demand. Sentiment toward values seems considerably more friendly, and we believe that the market is in a position to advance further, particularly on any fresh constructive incentive.

New York, Oct. 24 (By B.C. Bond Corporation) — President Coolidge's advocacy of lower taxes and Judge Gary's description of the steadily improving conditions in the steel industry, together with an extraordinary showing in the weekly Federal Reserve statement, supplied the groundwork for another constructive demonstration on the Stock Exchange to-day.

Under the leadership of the highest grade issues listed on the big board its forward movement made considerable progress, regaining partial ground which the week's decline had recorded. Increasing confidence regarding the speculative outlook was imparted not so much by the scope of the gains registered, as by the standing of the stocks which exhibited the greatest buoyancy. In the railroad group the advance was helped by N.Y. Central, Atchison, Reading, Norfolk and Eastern, Central R.R., New Jersey and Union Pacific. Among the industrials the upward way was shown by Steel, General Electric, American Smelting and Mack Truck. From the distinguished character of this leadership it was obvious that no trace of election nervousness lingered.

Unmistakable evidence of the abundant supply of funds in the East was the ability of banks here to finance the crop movement and the Fall demands without recourse to the Federal Reserve system was indicated by this week's report of the Federal Reserve banks. Bethlehem Steel's poor earnings showing for the September quarter in which a balance of only 69 cents a share was shown for the preferred proved to have been fairly well discounted by the drop into new low ground for the year in the previous session. Bethlehem opened at forty.

Traders are raising their estimates of U.S. Industrial Alcohol earnings for the current year on the theory that the company will establish a new high record in earnings in the current quarter. This will be due to the regent rise in the price of alcohol and the demand for the product that generally sets in at this time of the year. With more automobiles in service this year than last, sales are bound to show up well. Other products which have been under development are also beginning to contribute largely to earnings. Chicago Great Western's highly favorable September showing for which net operating income of $353,000 was more than double the aggregate in September, 1923, called attention to the prosperity of roads in adjacent territory. Missouri Pacific, R.I., Ills. Central, Wabash, M. & T. were in good demand on the belief that their September statements would show proportionate improvement. Trunk line roads are very busy with growing movement of hard and soft coal. Erie's September showing is expected to break all records for that month.

LIQUIDATION HITS GRAIN MARKETS

Chicago, Oct. 24 (By R. P. Clark & Co., Lt.)—Wheat: Bull news had as much effect as a few rain drops on a duck's back to-day. Clearances were 17,740,000 bushels for the week, against 10,041,000 a year ago. Cables were a little firmer, and there was much bullish news from Argentina. However, there was wheat for sale in the pit all the time, and local sentiment turned bearish.

Longs sold freely with liquidation especially heavy in the December. The big receipts had some effect, but on the other hand shipments were about as large as the receipts, while daily clearances were liberal and the seaboard reported 1,000,000 bushels sold for export.

Continental countries were buyers. Apparently there is little real justification for the heavy pressure on the market except that bull news has gone stale with cash interests temporarily against the market.

The close was heavy, and it will take a radical improvement in the demand to turn the market with present load undigested.

Corn: Liquidation told the story in corn as in wheat, and prices sold off sharply, with December at times especially weak. The cash demand was good, and there was 400,000 bushels reported sold for export at 4½ cents over December c.i.f. Buffalo. Weather conditions are ideal.

A car of new corn was received from Illinois, which sold at 80 cents, the fact that cash prices are relatively firm, and that exporters are bidding for corn strongly, suggests a policy of caution in pressing the selling side.

Oats: Sold off sharply, the pressure being due to big receipts, a slow export demand, and weakness in other grains, while the demand was anything but aggressive.

With the huge stocks of oats, any price improvement will be contingent on rallies in other grains.

Chicago, Oct. 24 (By B. C. Bond Corporation).—All grains were under pressure and liquidation, and finished with sharp losses. There were scattered sales on the dips, the total in all grains being approximately 1,000,000, according to late reports. Heavy accumulations of wheat in both the northwest and southeast was the big factor. Increased offerings of new corn with resultant hedging pressure and a slow cash demand affected the latter grain. Oats suffered a sharp decline because of lack of buying power, although the grain is the cheapest in the list, either for feed or food purposes. The decline of the last few days has been anticipated. It may extend further under belated liquidation. Within a few days a good buying movement should appear as the technical situation will have been much improved.

SAYS WHEAT POOL ACTIVITIES GROWING

Saskatchewan Manager Predicts Prairie Organizations Will Own Elevator Systems

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—Wheat is being sold by the prairie wheat pools much more advantageously on sample than on Government grades, according to Donald MacRae, manager of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool.

The pool methods of marketing, in the opinion of Mr. MacRae, will eventually involve the classification of wheat so as to make it possible to dispose of pool members' wheat on a basis of milling values only. Experiments, he said, had already been made successfully in this direction. The extent to which this could be done this year would be limited as the agreement with the elevator companies gave the latter the right to the use of pool grain in their own terminals.

Mr. MacRae predicted that in the future the pools would not only control the sale of the members' grain, but control the handling of it at every trading and unloading point. Ultimately the pools would own their own system of elevators outright throughout the Prairie Provinces.

Hudson Closed Car Prices Are Cut

New York, Oct. 24.—Hudson Motor Car Co., with the largest six-cylinder closed car distribution, to-day announced new low prices on its models. The price of the Hudson coach is cut from $1,500 to $1,395 and the Essex from $1,000 to $945, at Detroit.

After collecting all the exercise books, Edie, the monitress, went to her teacher.

"Teacher," she said, "I'm never going to get married."

"Why, Edie?"

"Oh, I'm sick of looking after kids!"—Tit-Bits.

Money Market To-day

New York, Oct. 24 (By B. C. Bond Corporation). — The Wall Street Journal this afternoon says:

Call money renewed throughout the week at two per cent. It is navilable in outside markets at 1½ and 2¾ per cent. Demand is light. Time money against stock exchange collateral is in abundant supply at 3 per cent for 90 days and 3¼ per cent up to six months. Commercial paper market is active, but volume outstanding has fallen off during the past few days. Indications are peak of commercial borrowing has been reached. Experience of past years, however, has been that peak comes around October 15, usually a little earlier. This being so, there is every reason to believe there can be no further stiffness in money rates for the remainder of the year. Current Federal reserve bank statements also indicates that the borrowing has fallen off. Combined Federal reserve bank statement shows an increase of 2.1 per cent in ratio of total reserves to deposits and note liabilities. Ratio stands at 79.2 per cent, compared with 77.1 per cent a week ago, and with 76.8 on October 14, 1923. Higher ratio results from an increase of $7,000,000 in gold holdings and of $4,000,000 in other reserves against which there was a decrease of $15,563,000 in note and circulation, and of $36,500,000 in member bank reserve deposits. Consolidated statement shows a decrease of $39,800,000 in discounted bills, of $27,600,000 in acceptances purchased in open market and of $15,700,000 in Government securities. As a result of these changes total earning assets of the system declined $83,100,000 to $977,700,000. Time money continues dull with rates unchanged.

Call money steady; high 2; low 2; ruling rate 2; closing bid 2; offered at 2¼; last loan 2; call loans against acceptances 1¾.

Time loans steady; mixed collateral 60-90 days 2½ @ 3; 4-6 months 3¼ @ 3½.

Prime commercial paper 3 @ 3¾.

Bethlehem Steel Reports Deficit

New York, Oct. 24.—Curtailed steel operations in the third quarter of 1924 were reflected to-day in the earnings' statement of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, which reported a deficit of $972,962, after deductions for charges and preferred dividends. In the preceding quarter the corporation reported a surplus of $203,167.

Blaming the Summer's depression in the industry for the decline in earnings, Eugene G. Grace, president of the corporation, announced that present operations were more than double the low rate of last July, having increased from thirty-one per cent at that time to sixty-five per cent in October. BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily Beats a Rug

(Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

By Howard R. Garis

"Come back here, Uncle Wiggily! Come right back here, if you please!" called a voice after the bunny rabbit gentleman one day, as he went hopping and skipping down the front walk.

"Well, now," said Mr. Longears to himself as he smiled beneath his pink, twinkling nose, "if I hadn't heard that word 'please' I would say it was the Bob Cat or Fox calling to me. But they never say 'please,' so this must be one of my polite friends."

And it turned out to be Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy who was asking Uncle Wiggily to come back.

"What do you want, if you will be so kind as to tell me?" politely asked the bunny, when he saw his muskrat lady housekeeper waving her paw at him from the front steps.

"Will you please come back and beat a rug for me before you go adventuring?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Of course, I'll beat a rug for you," offered the rabbit. "Which one shall I knock the dust out of?"

"The parlor rug, if you will be so kind," spoke Nurse Jane. "Mrs. Wibblewobble, the lady duck, is coming over to visit me. If there happened to be any dust in the rug she would sneeze ker-snitzio, and I wouldn't like that."

"Nor I, either," said Uncle Wiggily.

"I'll beat the rug for you."

The rabbit gentleman dragged the parlor rug out on the grass behind his hollow stump bungalow. Spreading the rug smoothly, Mr. Longears took his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch and began to pound the dust out of the square of carpet.

Whack! Bang! Whack! went Uncle Wiggily's crutch.

"Whack! Whack! Bangity-bung-bing!" went the crutch on the rug. Up out of the rug rose clouds of dust which the wind blew away.

Now it happened that the Fuzzy Fox was passing that way. And as the Fox saw Uncle Wiggily beating the rug and saw the clouds of dust the Fox said to himself:

"Ah, ha! Uncle Wiggily is so busy beating the rug that he will not see me if I slip up behind him and nibble his ears. The clouds of rug dust will hide me! This will be a good chance for me to catch him!"

Watching the rabbit, to make sure he didn't turn around, the Fox slipped up to the yard, jumped over the fence and reached out his paws to catch Uncle Wiggily.

But, just then, Mr. Longears looked behind him. He saw the Fox coming:

"Oh, ho! I know what you want!" shouted the bunny. "You want my ears, but you are not going to get them!"

With that Uncle Wiggily raised up one edge of the rug on the grass and crawled beneath it. He thought he could thus hide from the Fox.

"Two can play at that game!" barked the bad Fox. He raised up the rug as the rabbit had done, and ran underneath it, chasing the bunny.

But do you suppose Uncle Wiggily stayed under the rug to be caught? I should say not—indeed, no! Out on the other side of the rug and from beneath it, hopped the bunny.

The Fox tried to run out from beneath the rug, too, but he wasn't quick enough. The rug was humped up in the middle, where the Fox was trying to push his way out.

"Ha! Ha!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I'm going to beat the rug and I'm going to beat the Fox underneath the rug. I'll beat both at the same time! Hurray!"

"Whack! Bang! Whack!" went Uncle Wiggily's crutch on the rug and on the Fox under it.

"Ouchie! Wowchie! Ker-snitzio!" sneezed the Fox as the rug dust flew up his nose. "Let me out! Let me out!"

"Wait until I beat you a bit more!" laughed the bunny. And again he whacked the rug until the Fox was glad enough to run out and go home, nibbling his ears that day. And if the nutpick doesn't take all the oranges off the top of the gooseberry cake and feed them to the gold fish I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the flippy curtain.

The Surprising Sex

By MILDRED BARBOUR—Author of "Love Stakes," Etc.

A BLOW FROM AN UNEXPECTED QUARTER

"I say, Anna, what's the big idea behind the odd-looking boy who just left?"

Agatha Jennings put the question as she lit her third cigarette and accepted a fresh cup of tea.

"Oh, Jimmy's just an old acquaintance from home," shrugged Anna.

"Not going in for this patriotic 'home town' bunk, are you?" Mrs. Jennings eyes narrowed. "I warn you, my dear, it's fatal to your social career. Besides," she smiled maliciously, "the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children is likely to call a halt if you pick 'em much younger."

Anna flushed with annoyance.

"Jimmy is not as young as he looks—and I'm not so old myself, I beg to remind you."

Mrs. Jennings laughed.

"Don't get huffy. I was only ragging you. As a matter of fact, it's rather a wise idea to have a few regular male callers. It disarms gossip."

There was a significance in her tone which caught Anna's sharp ears.

"Just what do you mean?" she asked frankly.

Agatha Jennings shrugged:

"Don't you know—really? Well, then, if you must have it, people are beginning to talk about you and John Blake."

"What are they saying?" demanded Anna buntly.

"Nothing very nice," Mrs. Jennings eyed her curiously. "They are saying that you and John are too familiar."

"Oh!" swift crimson rushed to Anna's cheeks. "How dare they! How dare they!"

"Well, what else can you expect?" the other woman drawled. "Blake separates from his wife. Simultaneously, an old sweetheart shows up and makes her home in Washington for no particular reason. They are seen together frequently. Said sweetheart entertains him a lot and shows decided preference, even dismisses other would-be gallants when he comes. C'est suffit, chere amie. In fact, it's more than enough to furnish meat for the tabbies."

Anna was trembling with rage. She saw her cherished plans collapsing like a toy fortress. In the light of Mrs. Jennings' confidence, a great many puzzling things were suddenly clear—her social failure for instance, the empty drawing-room and the practically deserted tea table.

Oh, it was bitter, unwarranted, she thought angrily. And she had been so careful, too. She had played her game along such conventional lines.

She wondered if her social ostracism would continue if Blake married her.

The thought calmed her rage a little. It offered a new angle of attack. Blake had married one woman to save her reputation. Would he not do the same thing again if necessary?

Of course Blake was ignorant of the gossip, she decided. Otherwise he wouldn't be calling on her at all. (She had to admit that he rarely came voluntarily; generally only at her express invitation.)

When the psychological moment arrived, she would spring the truth and let him know how badly he had compromised her in the eyes of the world. She was confident that once she became a senator's wife, all unfounded gossip would dissolve in thin air, leaving no smirch upon her name.

Wherein she sadly underrated society!

That evening she sent for Blake. He came rather late, about 9.30, pleading a prolonged business engagement.

Anna had spent the intervening hours making herself beautiful, but he made no comment on her glowing appearance beyond saying, with raised brows:

"You are going out?"

"No," she glanced down at her brilliant evening gown, laughed a little, "I dressed solely for your appreciation. But I had a caller earlier—a friend from our home town—Jimmy Phillips."

Blake frowned, but without jealousy.

"The boy is making a fool of himself here in town. He's got in with a fast, blood-sucking crowd. At the rate he's going he'll be penniless in a year. I've tried to call a halt for the sake of the old doctor, but it's no use."

"Perhaps I can do something," suggested Anna. "Curious that Julie hasn't proved an effective influence, seeing that he's so much in love with her."

Blake made no comment. Anna was piqued and tried again.

"I dare say," she remarked with a light laugh, "that she hasn't much time to spare from the attentions of the fascinating Frenchman."

Again Blake said nothing, but she knew from his frown and his tightened lips that her thrust had gone home.

However, he gave her no chance to put into effect the plan she had conceived after Agatha Jennings' confidence.

She would have to possess her soul in patience for a while yet. The time was not ripe to inform Blake that he had compromised her with his attentions.

ALDERMAN WINS HIS APPEAL IN BRITAIN

Braithwaite Not Disqualified Because He Had Contracts With Municipality

London, Oct. 24 (Canadian Press Cable).—The Court of Appeal yesterday by a majority decision allowed the appeal of Alderman Braithwaite of Leeds against the judgment of the late Mr. Justice Bailhache of the King's Bench division of the High Court of Justice disqualifying the alderman from service as member of the City Council of Leeds because he had running contracts with the Leeds municipality.

It had been asserted that if the judgment were confirmed on appeal it would have the effect of driving good men from service on such bodies as town councils. Two aldermen of Leeds resigned as a result of the Bailhache decision.

The appeal against the disqualification of Alderman Braithwaite was taken on behalf of other municipalities as well as Leeds, as all the municipalities were more or less affected by the Bailhache judgment.

B.C. LAW COSTS WILL BE LOWER UNDER NEW PLAN

risk of having to pay unknown and possibly very large sums of costs to the other party in the event of losing their actions. Under the new tariff counsel can advise intending litigants the maximum amounts which the other party can tax against them. These sums are relatively small.

Thus, in the case of an action where the amount involved is $3,000 or less, the winning party cannot tax in excess of $350 against the loser. In a $10,000 action the maximum is $500, and in an action where as much as $25,000 is involved the taxable costs cannot exceed $750.

COURT OF APPEAL

The same maximum rates will apply in regard to appeals to the Court of Appeal in the same classes of action.

An important advantage to the public arising from the new system, states Mr. Lucas, is that it will not be remunerative for an unscrupulous lawyer to string out litigation by a multitude of petty applications to court in the course of preparation for trial. This is arrived at not only by the introduction of maximums, but by use of the "block system" of costs, whereby the various stages of preparation for trials are grouped into blocks and tariff items fixed for each block. Instead of a tariff containing 294 items, the lawyers will now have only thirty items under which they can tax costs. A typical instance of this condensation is item No. 13:

"All processes relating to setting down actions for trial, adjournments, change of venue, jury applications, record for judge, subpoenas for witnesses and jury process, consultations preparatory to trial and advising on evidence, $25."

DIFFERENCE OF HUNDREDS

This amount pertains to a $3,000 action, but even in the case of an action for an amount in excess of $25,000 the tariff is limited to $75. People who have had lawsuits will recognize that in this one item No. 13 it is possible at present for a lawyer legitimately to run up a bill of perhaps several hundred dollars.

TWO-YEAR DISCUSSION

Adoption of this new system follows more than two years of intensive study and constructive work by members of the legal profession who have been faced with a marked falling-off in business, due not so much to quiet times as to the fact that people have been abandoning good claims rather than run the risk of unknown cost penalties or have been settling actions brought against them in spite of having a good defence. It is felt that although the reward in individual cases will be less, the general result will be to create more business and to encourage members of the profession to conduct their clients' business in the most expeditious manner. For instance, it will create a tendency for counsel on opposing side of litigation to settle over the telephone many petty differences which they now take to a judge or the registrar. This tendency will not deprive clients of their right to a proper settlement of real and weighty differences, but as there will be no fee for the lawyer petty differences are not likely to arise.

MUCH CORRESPONDENCE

J. L. G. Abbott has been chairman of the committee which did the bulk of the work, corresponding with other provinces and states and working out the actual details of the scheme. Working with him at various times the following committeemen have been very active: A. M. Whiteside, Clarence Darling, J. N. Ellis, K.C.; J. G. Gibson, W. J. Baird, Col. G. H. Dorrell, D. E. McTaggart, Col. C. J. Lennox, Winslow Gillespie, C. W. St. John, H. W. Bucke and others.

One of most enthusiastic champions of the proposed change was the late Joseph Martin, K.C., who was vigorous in his denunciation of the existing system of costs. The late Charles Wilson, K.C., was also a supporter of the move, which is said to be in advance of anything of the kind yet attempted in Canada. Ontario and Alberta have the block systems, but in neither province is the "maximum system" as complete as that which will shortly be introduced in British Columbia.

TO MAKE RUNNING TRACK AT BEAVER LAKE FILTER BEDS

Elk Lake Improvements Contemplated by Joint Committee

Improvements at Elk Lake were discussed by the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee yesterday afternoon in connection with two portions of the property.

Finding that after arranging committments for the year there would be a sum of about $1,200 surplus, the committee approved a plan to make an initial expenditure to provide a beach and running track at the lake, near the filter beds. There has been a great deal of complaint by picnic parties that there was no running track for sports, and it was also stated that provision should be made for the children. As the water commissioner proposes to lower the intake, it was thought desirable to use the sand, which is now stored in large quantities in the filter beds.

City Engineer Preston estimated the cost of lowering the intake at about $750, but said this work could be done next year.

Alderman Todd pointed out that many persons, in complaint about the expenditures on the golf links at Elk Lake, said the public was neglected in its picnic grounds, and he believed the improvement of picnic grounds at a point near the city end of the lake would satisfy the critics.

The matter was left to the city engineer, and to G. W. Allison, who has been in charge of construction work at the lake. A sum of $1,000 was voted for the purpose.

Mr. Preston confirmed the suggestion that eventually some diversion of the present occupation road from the East Saanich Road to the filter beds will have to be made, but not until the second part of the Elk Lake Golf Links has been finished.

The other portion of the Elk Lake property affected in the discussion was that of the northwestern end, which is used chiefly by the Elk Lake Athletic Association, as a tenant at will, but no restriction is established by which the public is affected in its access to the lake.

The association asked the council for its approval to permit a joint boathouse and clubhouse to be erected by the association as there was a strong prospect of establishing a rowing club.

The question was referred to the city engineer with a request for report.

H. C. Oldfield, who wrote on behalf of the club, indicated there was no intention to restrict public rights at that part of the lake.

TO PROTECT PARK FROM DEPREDATIONS

Watch to be Set at Mount Douglas Park During Christmas Season

That it would be desirable to have a watch set on Mount Douglas Park during the Christmas season, owing to the wholesale thefts of coniferous trees for Christmas decorations was emphasized to the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee yesterday afternoon by Councillor Vantreight.

As it happened, the concessionaire of the tea rooms at Mount Douglas beach desired to be allowed to retain the building during the Winter, as he wished to carry out some alterations, and the meeting resolved to ask him to exercise close supervision over the small trees during the Yuletide season.

The committee received a report from R. R. F. Sewell, treasurer of the committee, on the expenditures which had been made during the year, and learned that $291 out of $453 expended on the properties under the control of the committee from June 21 to September 13, had been expended on Mount Douglas Park, the chief item being for fencing part of the area bounding the Glendinning farm.

The members of the committee felt that the properties, both parks and beaches had been well patronized, and that the properties on the whole might be regarded as in good physical shape.

In connection with the remarkable Easter sunrise services which have been held at Mount Tolmie for the past two years, under the direction of Rev. Dr. Davies, when pastor of Centennial Church, the City Temple authorities asked on behalf of Dr. Davies for a guarantee of the use of the Summit on next Easter Sunday. The committee, while approving the object, felt it could not pledge its successors, and referred the matter with favorable consideration to the incoming committee.

WILL CONTINUE WORK ON AVENUE

Beaches and Parks Committee Will Take Advantage of Suitable Weather

That sufficient funds remain to do some work in connection with Memorial Avenue, was stated at the meeting of the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee yesterday afternoon.

It was explained that discing and harrowing of the land might proceed northerly to Feltham Road, and that the balance of the appropriation should be expended under the control of a sub-committee composed of Reeve Macnichol, Alderman Ker and Councillor Vantreight, so that the committee at the end of the year could report on having carried out its works to the maximum of its financial ability.

Councillor Vantreight asked if the committee did not think that the trees would not be too close, and if it were not wise to double the space now left between them. He thought they would be wise when putting in any more trees, to see that they were planted by experienced orchardists, and to this the committee members approved.

The point with regard to the distance apart was left to the special sub-committee.

The report of the recent tag day for Memorial Avenue was received from the Chamber of Commerce, Memorial Avenue Committee, and considered satisfactory. The financial statement before the committee showed expenditure of $680 on the avenue in July and August.

It was stated by Mr. Vantreight that the work could be done most acceptably at the present time, when tree planting was opportune.

TOURIST FLOOD TO BE GREATEST YET, OLSON SAYS

Victoria to Gain by Flood to Coast, Says Taxi Head Back From East

The greatest flood of tourist traffic the West has ever had to cope with will be upon the Pacific Coast next Summer, according to H. B. Olson, head of the Yellow Cab Co. and the Circle Tours on this Island. Mr. Olson has just returned from a business tour of all the tourist and ticket selling agencies in the East, during which he lined up traffic for Victoria and arranged with the agencies to route travelers through this city.

The tourist tide was turned to Europe this last season, Mr. Olson said, but next season it will flow this way in volume never before experienced. The international convention of Knight Templars in Seattle in the Summer will draw more than 200,000 visitors from United States, Canada and from across the oceans. The Elks' convention in Portland will bring upwards of one-third as many at least.

Seattle and Portland will be so crowded that many of these visitors after a day or so there will look for some other place on the Coast in which to complete their holiday, Mr. Olson asserted. This will open the opportunity to Victoria to benefit proportionately just as much as these two larger cities.

CANNOT TOUCH VICTORIA AS RESORT

On his tour Mr. Olson stopped off at the chief tourist resorts to see what they have and to get ideas.

"As far as sight-seeing goes there was not one place on the whole trip to compare with Victoria," Mr. Olson said. "There was nothing to compare with Butchart's Gardens. We in Victoria do not realize what a wonderful asset we have in those gardens which are so kindly thrown open to the public by Mr. and Mrs. Butchart. At the tourist resorts in the New England states and down at Mount Vernon, they have the ancient history and traditional associations which interest visitors, but they have none of our scenery and other out door beauty."

BUSSES REPLACING STREET CARS

Mr. and Mrs. Olson attended the final world's series game in Washington. They saw Walter Johnson there win his game back after having lost it in New York. They were at the American Electric Railway Association convention in Atlantic City as the guests of the White Motor Car Company. This gathering was attended by transportation men from all over the world. New style busses were shown there. The White bus won the prize for the finest machine, and Mr. Olson went to Cleveland and ordered one of the machines which will be fitted with a de luxe sight-seeing body and be the finest car in operation on the Coast next season. At the convention there was emphasized the extent to which railway companies are replacing street cars by motors, finding it more economical and the busses more easily adaptable to modern traffic. He was also through the Yellow Car works at Chicago, and ordered there cabs to double the size of his fleet now operating here.

URGES MODERN REGULATIONS

During his stay in the various cities, Mr. Olson made a study of the taxicab and sight-seeing regulations. To-day, he said, Victoria would soon have to introduce similar laws. Chief among these requirements he said were: (1) No car for hire is allowed to operate unless it carries liability insurance. (2) Meters must be attached to all cabs and these meters must be inspected by the city. (3) All cabs must be mechanically inspected by the city. (4) Every driver must have his picture mounted in the inside of the car for identification. These regulations are for the protection of the public, Mr. Olson said, and do away with worn-out vehicles which give visitors to any city a bad impression of the place.

The taxicab war in the East is now over, he said, with all the big companies back to a 40-cent-a-mile rate. In practically all the tourist centres he found automobile rate to be $4 an hour, and this is in the United States where there is no duty to be paid on the machines. On his way East Mr. Olson attended the Circle Tours convention at Banff as representative from Victoria on the organization which has to do with the routing of tourists on this Coast.

NEW POTATO IS DEVELOPED

Disease Immunity Claimed For Tuber Produced by Lulu Island Grower

Known as the Marquis of Queensborough variety, a potato developed from the potato seed berry by James McKay, a resident of Lulu Island, has created a decidedly favorable impression with the potato and crop experts of the province. It is six years since Mr. McKay first attempted to produce the new variety, but during this time he has been extraordinarily successful in developing what is claimed to be a really outstanding type of tuber. This potato is of the white variety with shallow eyes and somewhat similar in shape to what is known as the Scotch Champion. It is stated by its producer and others who have grown small quantities that it has strong disease-resisting qualities, experiments which have been carried out showing that it has been entirely free from scab or other defects when planted in soil which produced a tuber of very inferior quality with other varieties. Mr. McKay also claims that it is a good cooker and adds that it will remain firm until the middle of Spring. So far it seems to be particularly adapted to practically all districts of the lower Fraser Valley. Frank J. MacKenzie has attempted to produce it on his farm at Anderson, east of Cloverdale, and has met with notable success. Similar results have also been experienced by a prominent Chilliwack potato grower.

Specimens have been entered at the "any other variety" classes at numerous exhibitions during the past couple of years, and in spite of exceptionally keen competition this potato has always been a conspicuous prize-winner. Arrangements are being completed for having a number of exhibits at the forthcoming potato seed show, which will be held in Vancouver next month, when an effort will be made to have it classed as one of the standard varieties.
